New Depot Warehouse Bids Opened

Low for Marion Engineer Structure Is $1,364,805

Bids were opened yesterday at the Army Engineer's district office in Huntington, W. Va., for construction of a general purpose warehouse at the Marion Engineer Depot, The Associated Press reported.

George Sheaf and Company, Columbus contracting firm, entered a low bid of $1,364,805.62. The second lowest bid was by the Dawson Evans Co. of St. Bernard, O., at $1,383,521.31. The third was by Forrester Construction Co. of Flint, Mich., at $1,412,733.-86. Bids were received from 14 other contractors.

A spokesman at the district office reported several days would be required to examine the bids before a contract would be let.

Includes All Facilities

The bid entered by the Sheaf Co. includes general construction, installation of electrical wiring, plumbing and heating, sewer facilities and laying of railroad spur tracks to the new building.

The warehouse measuring 200 by 1,000 feet will be built east of the main entrance at the depot.

Funds for construction of the new building already have been appropriated by Congress. They were made available last June.

The Department of Defense at that time asked for $3,483,000 for use here.

Purposes Listed

The department announced the money was needed for construction of new warehouses, a new sprinkler system in warehouses for fire protection and renovation of nearly 20 miles of railroad track at the depot.

Neither Col. Rene Quenneville, commanding officer at the depot, nor Col. R. E. Dixon, public information officer at the district office, were able to give any estimate on when the work would be started.

Aid Sought For War Victims And Refugees

Marion Joins In Drive Set For Thanksgiving Week

Warm clothing, bedding and shoes are among the articles needed by the war victims in Korea and the refugees of European countries for which the National Catholic Welfare Conference is staging a Thanksgiving Week drive in Marion and throughout the entire country. The drive gets under way Sunday and continues throughout Nov. 25.

A city-wide appeal for these needed articles is being made. All persons interested in helping in the drive are asked to take their contributions to Moira Hall next Monday and any time thereafter, or call Mrs. Bernard Smith, 2-4970, transportation chairman.

The Rev. Father Urban Wiggins, assistant pastor at St. Mary Church, is chairman of the drive in Marion, Morrow, Hardin and Delaware counties. Members of St. Mary Council, National Council of Catholic Women, will be in charge of the assembling and packing of the articles here. Distribution is made through the War Relief Services of the Catholic Welfare Conference.

Blankets, heavy cotton or woolen underwear and heavy socks are specifically desired together with most kinds of wearable garments in good repair. Shoes, in order to be of use, must be mated and tied together. All types of serviceable men's shoes can be used and also woman's and children's shoes. Those in charge ask that all articles be wearable, clean and in good repair.

Millions of people in Germany and Austria are in dire need and

A Foreign Policy For Americans

By Senator Robert A. Taft

CHAPTER 2

The Place of The President And Congress in Foreign Policy

(PART 1)

NO ONE can question the fact that the initiative in American foreign policy lies with the President. But, if I can judge from my mail and from many considered editorial expressions, the American people certainly do not believe or intend that his power shall be arbitrary and unrestrained. They want a voice in the more important features of that policy, particularly those relating to peace and war. They expect their senators and congressmen to be their voice.

SENATOR TAFT

There can be no question that the executive departments have claimed more and more power over the field of foreign policy at the same time that the importance of foreign policy and its effect on every feature of American life has steadily increased.

If the present trend continues it seems to me obvious that the President will become a complete dictator in the entire field of foreign policy and thereby acquire power to force upon Congress all kinds of domestic policies which must necessarily follow.

The fundamental issue in the "great debate" was, and is, whether the President shall decide when the United States shall go to war or whether the people of the United States themselves shall make that decision.

Action by Executive Agreement

Also, for many years the State Department has been developing a theory that almost any action can be taken by executive agreement, which does not absolutely require any congressional approval at all, instead of by the treaty method prescribed in the Constitution. Undoubtedly, the necessity of obtaining a two-thirds vote in the Senate is very difficult and has encouraged many people to think that this development was necessary. But if the treaty method is not satisfactory, then the Constitution should be amended to provide for the approval of all executive agreements and to define the scope of and effect of such agreements much more clearly than at present.

More and more the State Department has assumed to do many things which are beyond its power in the field of trade, by an executive agreement known as the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade (GATT). It has insisted that the Executive have the power to raise and lower tariffs, through reciprocal trade agreements, within constantly widening limits and without the slightest shadow of a standard prescribed by law. Political agreements as important as those made at Yalta have never been submitted to Congress at all.

I think it is fair to say that the State Department has adopted an attitude of hostility toward Congress and an unwillingness to submit any matter to Congress if it thinks it can possibly carry it through without such submission. It shows a complete distrust of the opinion of the people, unless carefully nursed by State Department propaganda.

A Serious Issue

The matter was brought to an issue by the intervention of the President in the Korean War without even telling Congress what he was doing for several weeks. And it was brought still further to the fore by the proposal that he commit troops to an international army under the control of a council of 12 nations. I do not think that the American people have ever faced a more serious constitutional issue or one which in the end may present a greater threat to their freedom.

If the President has unlimited power to involve us in war, then I believe that the consensus of opinion is that war is more likely. History shows that when the people have the opportunity to speak they as a rule decide for peace if possible. It shows that arbitrary rulers are more inclined to favor war than are the people at any time.

On Jan. 4, 1951, President Truman, commenting on the Coudert resolution to bar him from send-

Two Injured In Crash East Of Marion

Two men are in Marion City Hospital today, one of them reported in a critical condition, following an automobile accident yesterday near the Marion Engineer Depot on Route 30-S.

Cars driven by E. Van Gilglogly, 67, of near Mt. Gilead and Charles A. Frazier, 45, of Martel collided head-on at 4:18 p.m. Gilglogly was driving west and Frazier was traveling east. Both were alone in their cars.

They were taken by a Depot ambulance to Marion City Hospital where Frazier's condition was reported as critical this moring. The state highway patrol reported his injuries as multiple cuts and a broken left leg. Gilglogly's condition was reported as fair. His injuries included fractures of both legs and laceration of the head, the patrol reported.

Frazier's car, a 1951 Ford coach, was demolished. The front end of Gilglogly's car, a 1951 Studebaker sedan which he has owned for about a week, was demolished.

The patrol is investigating the accident.

6,000 GI's Plan To Marry Japanese Girls

TOKYO, Nov. 16—(AP)—Nearly 6,000 American enlisted men have announced their intention of taking Japanese wives to the United States.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters said that up to Oct. 20 it had approved 5,437 applications of military personnel to marry Japanese. They include 772 airmen and 108 sailors.

FIVE DAY OHIO FORECAST

Temperature will average 7 to 10 degrees below normal. Normal maximum 48 in north and 53 in south. Normal minimum 33. Cold Saturday through Wednesday. Precipitation one-quarter to one-third inch occurring as snow flurries tonight and Saturday and snow Tuesday.

Front Line Troops Hear Of Atrocities

Told Reds Have Slain 5,500 Captured Buddies

TOKYO, Nov. 16— (AP) — American front line troops in Korea were told today the Reds have slaughtered 5,500 of their captured buddies.

The Armed Forces Radio broadcast for the first time the figures Col. James M. Hanley announced Wednesday—"so the GIs will know what they are up against."

Hanley is the center of an Army investigation because he announced the totals. The colonel said he released them so front line troops wouldn't be fooled by Red propaganda.

The Armed Forces Radio earlier was silent on the subject while the rest of the world heard—and was shocked. The radio began beaming the story to the front this afternoon, and repeated it at intervals of several hours.

Explains Delay

Maj. Edgar L. Tidwell, chief of the Far East network, explained the delay: "There were too many unknown quantities. When we could finally pin things down, we let it go."

Don Dickinson, news officer for Armed Forces Radio, added:

"We held the story until today because there was so much conflict in the figures between various agencies. We wanted to be right."

Both said there was no censorship.

The Army newspaper Stars and Stripes carried the story in its Korean editions both Thursday and Friday, the supervising officer reported.

Hanly said the reason he compiled and released the figures was for the information of American front line troops.

The announcement caught the military by surprise—from the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea to the Pentagon in Washington.

South Korean government officials said today there was nothing new in the atrocity figures.

No Surprise To Koreans

"They were not a surprise," government spokesman Clarence Ryee said at Pusan, where Hanley made his disclosure Wednesday. "There is nothing wrong about disclosing facts of the Communists' acts at any time."

South Korean President Syngman Rhee said, "we knew about the Communist atrocities. We just kept quiet about them."

The rest of the world didn't accept the announcement so matter-of-factly.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, sent his press information officer to Korea to investigate the details of the disclosure, and the figures themselves.

Ridgway instructed Col. Patrick Welch to interview Hanley and Col. Kenneth L. Booth, Eighth Army public information officer. Hanley said the Eighth Army passed on the story.

Site Bought for New Building

Marion Highway Patrol Post Barracks Planned

A new $40,000 barracks will be constructed for the Marion Post of the State Highway Patrol on a site recently purchased by the state two miles north of Marion on the east side of Route 23.

This announcement was made by Cpl. Tom B. Morgan yesterday, the 18th anniversary of the founding of the Ohio State Highway Patrol.

Bids for construction of the new building will be opened within two or three weeks, and construction will start shortly after bids are accepted. The barracks will be a one-floor brick building, similar to a barracks recently completed in Dayton. The same plan will be used for barracks to be constructed at Steubenville and Toledo.

The building will include a three-car garage, three offices, bedroom, utility room, and equipment room. It will stand toward the rear of the one-acre lot, which will be landscaped. A blacktopped circular driveway will be constructed in front of the barracks.

Post One of First

The Marion Post was one of the first to be set up after the patrol was established in 1933. It has occupied its present location at 766 E. Center St., since July of 1949. Previous to that it was located in several Marion houses, including the building which is now the Veterans Memorial Home on Delaware Ave.

There are 10 officers located at the Marion Post, although manpower is expected to increase within the next two years to 16. Equipment at present includes six cars and one motorcycle.

Cpl. Morgan has been in charge of the Post for five years. He was previously stationed here as a patrolman from 1939 to 1941. He is originally from Martins Ferry, O.

Post's Present Personnel

Patrolmen stationed at the Post, and their home towns, include: Doyle M. DeWalt, Galion; Garnet E. Moore, Marion; Edward P. Goffos, Cambridge; Albert A LeLakus, Canton; Thomas W. Le Savage, Tiffin; Paul E. Wolfe, Mansfield; Frederick E. Scott, Crestline; Steven H. Day, Columbus; and Stephen E. Smith, London.

The Marion Post is one of eight in District A, which includes 24 counties in northwestern Ohio. District headquarters are located at Findlay. Others posts are in Defiance, Perrysburg, Bellevue, Lima, Bellefontaine, Baybridge,

New Trimmings This Year

Yule Lights To Brighten Marion's Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving night the streets of downtown Marion will take on a festive array in preparation for the yuletide season. The Retail Merchants Division of the Marion Chamber of Commerce will trim the shopping area Tuesday for Christmas with the help and cooperation of electricians from several Marion firms. The lights will all be turned on Thanksgiving night.

Employes of the Triple Service Electric Co., United Electric Supply Co., Willey Electric Co., Robinson & Sons Electrical Service and Ohio Edison Co. have volunteered their time and service in installing the street lights and ornaments. As a result, the Retail Merchants are able to add approximately $1,000 worth of new trimmings to the street decorations.

Area To Be Decorated

Strings of overhead colored lights decorated with white pine roping will start on E. Center St. at High St., and extend to W. Center St. at Orchard St. In the other direction, lights will be strung on S. Main St. at the second alley south of Church and continue on North Main St. to the railroad tracks.

New additions to the decorations this year are four three-bell clusters to be placed at the four entrances to the downtown area. Rotating lights on the bells will give the impression of apparent movement. The clusters measure 5 feet high and 10 feet wide. The inside of each bell is made of red illuminated plastic.

Lamp Post Decorations

Four lamp post wreaths faced with double plastic centers bearing Christmas designs have also been newly purchased by the merchants. The wreaths, each 38 inches in diameter, will be placed at the four corners of Main and Center Sts.

Lamp posts on both Main and Center Sts. will be decorated with the 24 round plaques which were used last year. Each plaque including the face of an angel, Santa Claus or a caroler, will be encircled with colored lights.

Workers To Be Guests

Men from the various electric companies who help with Marion's Christmas street decorations Tuesday will be entertained at a dinner after the decorations have been put up. The Retail Merchants will be hosts.

Street decorating committee of the Retail Merchants Division is headed by LeRoy Clauer. Assisting him are Jerry Abelson, William Coffee and Joseph O'Connor. Trimming the downtown area is part of the new and enlarged Christmas program in Marion which is being sponsored by the Retail Merchants.

Some Hunters Catch Game; Others 'Caught'

Police Arrest 3 For Hunting Inside City Limits

Hunters trooped through woods and fields Thursday, the first day of rabbit and pheasant season.

While fortunate hunters came back with a bird or a hare, no one returned with injuries.

However some less cautious hunters were arrested.

Three Marion men were arrested by police yesterday near S. Prospect St. and charged them with hunting inside the city limits, a violation of a city ordinance.

Arrested were Fred Kline Berry, 31, of 400 Park Blvd., Harold Wayne Patton, 24, of 524 Pearl St., and Arthur Henry Harbolt Jr., 27, of near Marion. They were released after posting $25 bond each, and are scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Saturday.

Crawford Co. Man Fined

William Gearhart of New Washington, Crawford County, was fined $200 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting a pheasant 18 hours before the season started.

He was arrested by T. B. Warner, Wyandot County game protector, and fined in Bucyrus mayor's court Thursday.

Delaware Area Popular

More than 1,000 hunters were registered at the three check points in the Delaware dam area on the first day of the season. More than half came out with the bag limits of rabbits and pheasants.

Hunters registered from all over central Ohio. Conservation officials reported the 9,000-acre reservation was being heavily

Governor Commutes Sentence

Killinger's Life Spared After Friend Dies in Chair

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today saved Jerry Killinger, 18, from the electric chair only 13 hours after the execution of the man who induced the youth to kill Harold Mast, 23, in Medina County.

The governor reduced Killinger's death sentence to life imprisonment. The youth was to have been executed tonight.

Max Amerman, 27, the man who plotted the death of his farmer-neighbor, Mast, for love of Mast's wife, Randi, 24, died in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair last night.

Lausche refused to halt the execution after studying the slaying case for several days. But he said "hero worship" of Amerman led Killinger to ambush Mast with a ball-loaded shotgun the night of Oct. 5, 1950.

Victim of Influence

"The plan to take the life of Harold Mast was evolved and initiated by Mr. Amerman," Lausche said in his clemency statement. "Gerald Killinger as a boy became the victim of the influence and wishes of the man whom he 'hero worshipped.'"

Killinger will be 19 years old tomorrow.

Under Ohio law the state pardon and parole commission must consider Killinger's case after 20 years, but it could do so sooner. If the governor, after such a hearing, commuted the first-degree murder sentence to one of second-degree murder, Killinger would be eligible for immediate parole consideration.

The stockily-built sober-faced Amerman walked calmly to the death chair shortly after 8 p.m., a guard at each side. Apparently as unworried and resigned as when he began his long wait in death row last Jan. 20, Amerman glanced around only once.

He listened as the Rev. Ray K. Haustad, Medina Seventh Day Adventist minister, repeated prayers. He began to pray as the guards adjusted the rubber mask over his face.

Prays During Execution

A 10-second, 1,650-volt charge of current swept through his body about 8:04 as he muttered a prayer. Dr. R. H. Brooks pronounced him dead six minutes later.

Amerman and Killinger were baptized by the Rev. Haustad yesterday morning. Prison Warden Ralph W. Alvis said before the execution, "Amerman has been very calm, apparently resigned . . . He's been with the Medina minister almost continually for two days."

Amerman was in New Jersey the night of Oct. 5, 1950, when Killinger, then 17, lay in the brush 45 minutes before killing Mast with one blast from a 12-gauge shotgun. Mast stood on the front doorstep of his farm home with his hand on the doorknob when the youth placed the single-ball slug squarely in the middle of his back.

Randi Mast, who later said she was "a very foolish girl," testified she had been sexually intimate with Amerman once while her husband was away at a G.I. farming school. But she denied taking part in the murder plot.

Amerman had accused Randi of being the aggressor in their affair. When asked why he plotted the killing, he testified, "I love her, I can't describe it."

Amerman said he asked Randi to obtain a divorce. She said he threatened to kill her husband unless she got a divorce and married him.

Sincerely Repentant

"Sincerely repentant" was the way Rev. Haustad described Amerman, who said he tried in every way to right the wrong.

Warden Alvis said he had received "an unusually large number of letters and calls about the case."

Governor Frank J. Lausche twice had granted reprieves for Amerman from the original death penalty, which was to have been carried out May 9, 1951.

Mast's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Allied Pilots See 1st MIGs In Five Days

But Reds Keep Their Distance; Front Is Quiet

SEOUL, Nov. 16—(AP)—Allied warplanes roared over Communist Korea and Red jets swarmed down out of Manchuria today in clear flying weather but both sides held their fire.

F-84 Thunderjet pilots over North Korea sighted Russian-type MIGs, the first Red jets they had seen in five days. The Communist pilots kept their distance.

Allied jets sweeping MIG Alley said they saw more than 100 Red jets during the day.

The Fifth Air Force said its war planes flew 549 flights by 6 p.m., hammering Red supply lines after being grounded 36 hours by steady rains.

A bright sun began drying out the mud-covered Korean battle front which had one of its quietest days of the war Thursday.

Second Performance Tonight

Guild Follies Scores Hit With Audience of 1,300

By NANCY NOON

All the ingredients of a good show were mixed in the proper proportions to provide an evening of unforgettable entertainment for the large audience which attended the Junior Service Guild "Follies of 1951" at the Palace Theater Thursday night.

A second performance will be given tonight at 8:15 by the cast of nearly 200 Marion residents. Some tickets will be available at the theater boxoffice until curtain time.

Mrs. R. A. Bagley, chairman of the ticket committee, estimated that 1,300 persons attended the show. Proceeds from the ticket sale will be used by the Guild to finance welfare work in the city and county.

Members of the near-capacity audience were enthusiastic in their reception of the show's 20 scenes, presented in a swift-moving parade of colorful costumes, graceful dancing, gay music and comedy. The program was divided into two acts, separated by an intermission.

The show was ably staged and directed by Jay Rogers of the Jerome H. Cargill Producing Organization of New York City. Mrs. J. B. Walter was stage manager, and music was provided by Glenn Johnson and his orchestra.

Costumes From New York

Brilliant costumes for the show were sent from New York and were fitted to the cast members by the costume committee, headed by Mrs. Elmer Niskanen. Scenery was used sparingly but effectively throughout the production. Mrs. William Leffler

45th Campaign in Marion County

1st Mailing of Christmas Seals Set for Monday

This year's Christmas Seals, distributed by the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Assn, will go in the mail Monday.

Residents of the city and county will receive the sheets of 100 seals together with a letter, giving them an opportunity to contribute to the service which the association renders here Dr E L Brady is president, Mrs W E Miley executive secretary, Cecil W. Gabler, seal chairman, and G W. Anderson, treasurer. This is the forty-fifth annual campaign, and the sales in Marion have been carried on more than 40 years

Dollar Per Sheet

Proceeds from sales of the seals, at $1 per sheet, are used for providing X-rays, clinics and health education in the community. During the last year, the Marion organization paid for 14 clinics at City Hospital, with from 20 to 35 persons examined per month Besides X-ray, diagnosis was given, plus advice by a chest specialist More than 2,000 were X-rayed free in the mass chest X-ray program carried on in the county in September

Dr John D Porterfield, director of the Ohio Dept. of Health, has been appointed chairman of the annual seal campaign in Ohio The state association represents an organized tuberculosis association in each of the 88 counties.

Starting in 1908 in Wilmington, Del, the Christmas Seal idea has spread to "every civilized country in the world and in every instance supports a community education campaign against tuberculosis"

Only Source

"The sale of Christmas Seals is the only source of revenue of Ohio's 88 county-wide tuberculosis associations," Dr Porterfield stated "No personal solicitation, no continuous campaign, no demands, just a simple written message to every family that tuberculosis, a disease that affects everyone, can be completely eliminated with the knowledge we now have. Early diagnosis, early treatment, and a quick return to a useful life is a cycle that your tuberculosis association and your health departments have proven effective over a half century of experience The Christmas Seal, for 45 years has been a symbol of the campaign to eliminate tuberculosis It warrants your continued support"

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

DETROIT

A BUNCH of the muscle boys whose padrone rates high in the Mafia social set have been having themselves quite a knuckle-bruising, knife-slashing time here for months, kicking the daylights and the unionism out of some of Walter Reuther's followers.

The padrone is Santo (Sam) Perrone, an old-fashioned patroon, good to his family, but enthusiastically rough with those whose decency threatens his domain. He came up the hard way which actually was easy for Santo, for he's all muscle. This was a process which kept him illiterate, the Kefauver committee said in those television days. Perrone, according to the committee, has difficulty reading even street signs, but this doesn't keep him from finding his way home to his mansion in swank Grosse Point, via chauffeured limousine, a luxury made possible because his manual labor brings over $65,000 a year.

Victor Riesel

Some of the padrone's boys have been traveling throughout the state as well as in Detroit, knuckling workers who wanted to join the CIO's Auto Union. To the surprise of the Rover boys, the padrone and even the Auto union, the police suddenly cracked down the other morning — arresting seven relatives, friends and employes of Padrone Perrone. Taking Armistice Day seriously, the local gendarmerie let it pass peacefully and then swooped down in some more raids which promise to crack open a succulent protection racket.

Meanwhile, at least, the horrific beatings and bribery have stopped. For six weeks now, the hoods have beaten workers, slashed tires on their cars and threatened their families—which gets real low on civilization's totem pole, because that throws muscle against frightened wives huddling their tousled-haired five-year-olds into the kitchen until poppa comes home. I know. I've seen it.

POLICE ACTION has gratified the union, and the nation should know of it—for this is what happens when a local police shop moves in fast. So the United Automobile Workers (CIO) has gone on official silence while the police grill the seven arrested torpedoes and plan more raids. Officially the police said:

"It has been ascertained that there is an organized plan of operation on the part of certain persons to prevent employes in some plants from either joining a union or forming a union of their choice. The organized plan follows a pattern of outright threats, intimidation and the use of coercive measures."

What the police know is that the plants they won't name are the kind of "respectable investments" which certain elements have gone into secretly. To "protect" that investment, the working stiffs have been mugged, slugged, knifed and bribed. The police here will tell you that they began probing when they received complaints of gambling in "certain" Detroit plants and uncovered "coercion against employes' attempts to unionize."

BACK OF ALL THIS is the mammoth gambling operation in the nation—right inside the big plants studding this city, for example.

To protect this gambling which, according to Kefauver testimony, can draw as high as $100,000,000 a year from just one great plant alone, the Syndicate attempts to control the local unions, or drive them out, or keep them from coming in. For once in, the Auto Union leadership works as methodically against the combine as it can. As a business investment, the Syndicate has actually thrown "very large funds" into union elections in major locals here in the hope it might be able to put over labor officials who would tolerate in-plant gambling. That hasn't worked. Which accounts for the kind of violence seeping quietly across some of this city's streets.

But failure to elect friendly union officials has about as much effect in wiping out sin as revival tent shows. The system is hard to smash. In many a giant plant there are special tools rooms and closets used as gambling alcoves. There are tool and spare part distributors in some factories who issue their stuff over counters—and as the equipment goes out the bets are taken in right over these same counters.

THERE'S A SPECIAL platoon system. One squad of working men eager to pick up a few extra bucks from the syndicate picks up the bets and then relays the slips to a second band of men who carry them out of the plant. A third group takes the money past the gates. Thus, if picked up by the police, the final platoon has nothing but currency. The middle men have no money left in their pockets—and legal prosecution is difficult. The first echelon is made up of working Joes who are not criminals. If picked up they "cop a plea" (guilty) and the combine pays their fines—just a business expense.

But without the lower squads the operation limps. And the union can and tries to — smash gambling by pressuring that bottom group. That accounts for much of the mob's anger here. Only the police can win this fight. The country should keep its eye on this struggle in Detroit. It can set a national precedent.

ROBOT CHESS. Dr. Donald Davis, the Bethesda, Md. physicist who developed an "electronic brain," finds himself in a chess tournament in which his opponent is a miniature California robot. Challenged by this Frankenstein situation, Dr. Davis was ready to bet $1,000 that he will win over CRC-102, as the machine has been labeled.

Taft Choice In Massachusetts

BOSTON, Nov. 16 — (AP)— Senator Robert A. Taft is the favorite for the GOP presidential nomination among Massachusetts Republican state senators who are ready to take a stand at the present time.

A sharp division in party sentiment was noted, however, in a poll conducted by The Associated Press with General Dwight D. Eisenhower and General Douglas MacArthur having outspoken supporters, too.

Here's the way the poll came out: Taft—8. Eisenhower—4. MacArthur—3. Non-committal—7.

WCTU HOLDS TEA

A membership dues tea was held recently by the Anna Gordon WCTU at the home of Mrs. Ed Ellington on John St. Scripture reading and prayer were led by Mrs. Berkley Huddle, a guest. Mrs. C. A. Thomas, county president, was present and, with Mrs. L. E. Stanley, reported on the state convention which they attended in Dayton recently. Plans were made to send baskets to the sick and unfortunate for Christmas and to hold an exchange of gifts at the December meeting. Mrs. Frank Shearer offered the closing prayer. Mrs. Earl Luke and Mrs. Hugh Walter were guests. Mrs. Thomas assisted the hostess.

Report Says Taft Is "In"

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—Confident.

That's the best way to describe the atmosphere in the bustling command post of the campaign to corral the Republican presidential nomination next year for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

One of the top officials at national headquarters of the Taft committee told a reporter:

"As of today, Taft is in."

This official, L. Richard Guylay of New York, said the Ohioan "has 600 delegates right now."

The Republican national committee said it expects about 1,200 delegates at its nominating convention in Chicago next summer.

The headquarters was set up a little more than two weeks ago in a hotel suite only a block from the White House where the Ohioan hopes to be living a year from next January. These quarters are temporary and the 11-member staff will move shortly to an office building at the foot of Capitol Hill.

Heading the staff is Victor A. Johnston, a supporter of Harold E. Stassen in 1944 and 1948. Guylay is one of Johnston's chief aides.

ANNUAL CIRCLE DINNER

The annual birthday dinner of the Rebekah Friendship Circle was held Wednesday night at the I.O.O.F. hall. Plans were made to arrange a Thanksgiving basket to be given a needy family. Decorations followed a Thanksgiving motif. Committee members in charge of the meeting were Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Henry Dawson, Mrs. Lloyd Caylor and Mrs. Howard W. Triplett. The next meeting will be held Nov. 21 with Mrs. Myrtle Snyder in charge.

'Voice' Contest To Be Held Monday Night

C. of C. Finals Will Be Heard At State Street School

Plans for the county finals in the "Voice of Democracy" speaking contest, sponsored by the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, were completed Thursday night at a monthly dinner meeting of the group.

The county-wide finals will be held Monday at 8 p. m. at the State Street Junior High School auditorium. Winners from various schools throughout the county will deliver their addresses and a transcription of the county winner will be sent to the state finals to be held at Columbus, Dec. 2. The county winner will receive a $25 savings bond while a trophy will be awarded the second-place address. All other contestants will receive a certificate.

Winner Goes to Washington

The winner of the state contest will travel to Washington, D. C., for the national finals. A $500 college scholarship will be awarded the national winner. The Ohio finalist will receive a $250 scholarship.

Kenneth Huguet is serving as chairman of the contest. Judges for the finals will be the three honorary members of the Jaycees, Col. Rene Quenneville, Harold Grigsby and Robert T. Mason.

C. G. Wheeldon, Boy Scout executive for the Harding Area Council, was guest speaker at last night's meeting. He spoke on various scouting activities and told the Jaycees how they could aid in carrying out the program. The meeting was held at the Y.M.C.A. with Robert Sprouse, president, presiding.

Two Accidents In City Traffic Listed

Minor damage was reported when cars driven by Mrs. Clara Schwartz of 292 S. Vine St. and Richard M. Somerlot, 19, of 1059 E. Church St. collided on E. Church St. at 6:37 a. m. Thursday.

A car driven by Glenn P. Kennard, 30, of 257 Uncapher Ave. struck and damaged the door of one opened by its owner, Jack Vlachos, 44, of 526 W. Center St. on Shelby Ct. at 4:55 p. m. Thursday. The Vlachos car was parked police said.

Murray Lists Demands To Steel Industry

Given Free Hand By Union To Negotiate Requests

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 16—(AP)—Philip Murray packaged up a batch of demands on the steel industry today, including a "substantial wage increase."

Murray got endorsement from the CIO Steelworkers Union's 170-man wage-policy committee yesterday for a 22-point set of demands on the industry.

The union expects negotiations to start Nov. 27.

Murray's demands were so encompassing that it amounted to giving him a free ticket to negotiate what he wants with the steel industry.

As head of both the CIO and its million-member steel union, Murray started out on a course supposed to get benefits in steel and at the same time set new standards for other CIO unions.

Other Demands

Besides asking for a "substantial wage increase," Murray specifically demanded an industry-wide union shop, productivity bonus, severance pay, improved vacations, premium pay for weekend working hours, and a guaranteed annual wage.

Murray told newsmen it has been four years since a complete new steel contract was negotiated. Since then the contract, expiring next Jan. 1, was simply amended from time to time.

The average hourly pay in the steel industry is estimated at $1.92.

President Benjamin F. Fairless of the United States Steel Corp. said last night that collective bargaining probably will fail to bring agreement on the union's wage demands.

Fairless told a realtors' meeting in Cincinnati that the question of a pay increase for the steelworkers and its size "will apparently have to decided finally in Washington."

Peron Predicts Labor State

Says Politics On Way Out in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA, Nov. 16—(AP)—President Juan D. Person says politics is on the way out in Argentina—that the country is on the road to becoming a labor union state.

Returning to his office after a two-week leave of absence in which he successfully campaigned for re-election to the presidency for another six years, Peron yesterday told a group of visiting Latin American labor leaders:

"We are headed for a labor union state, long a dream of the human community.

"I am still maintaining the political form (of government) because we now are in the process of evolution; but the day will soon arrive when everything will be done by the unions. Then politics will disappear from the Argentine scene."

President William Henry Harrison rode a white horse to and from the Capitol.

Killinger

Lyle Mast of Medina, had asked that Killinger be spared death. A letter they wrote to the governor earlier in the proceedings read:

"Taking a life will not bring back our son. Please spare the life of the boy who pulled the trigger."

Randi Mast, now living in New Jersey, asked that neither be given commutation, however. Amerman had given Randi his farm and made her beneficiary in his estate. But she sold the farm, and said she did not want anything more from him.

"Amerman took (the electrocution) like a man," said Warden Alvis. "He had asked for less than any other prisoner I know of."

A Mere Boy

In commuting Killinger's sentence, Gov. Lausche said:

"Gerald Killinger was 17 years of age at the time the life of Harold Mast was taken. He was a mere boy and an employe of Max Amerman, whom he 'hero worshipped.'

"The plan to take the life of Harold Mast was evolved and initiated by Mr. Amerman. Gerald Killinger as a boy became the victim of the influence and wishes of the man whom he 'hero worshipped.'

"He responded to Max Amerman's suggestion that Killinger bring to an end the life of Harold Mast.

"The parents of Harold Mast spontaneously and with a lofty concept of mercy and forgiveness pleaded with me to commute the sentence of Gerald Killinger.

"Randi Mast, the wife of the deceased, on the other hand, urged that I allow both Max Amerman and Gerald Killinger to be put to death, in pursuance to law.

"It would have been more consistent with required penitence on her part if she had remained silent.

"I have concluded that the execution of this boy under the facts and circumstances involved in the tragedy is not justified."

"The commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment will not be a hinderance or impairment of the enforcement of law and order. I am, therefore, commuting his sentence from death in the electric chair to imprisonment for life in the Ohio State Penitentiary."

"Thank God," Says Killinger

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16—(AP)—Warden Ralph W. Alvis strode briskly along death row today. He called out:

"Jerry, the governor has commuted your sentence to life imprisonment."

In a barred death row cell, Jerry Killinger, husky 18-year-old, went rigid for a second, then said brokenly:

"Thank God for that."

Tears welled to his eyes. Without further word, the youth slid to his knees He prayed to God, oblivious to the warden outside his cell or to the stir that rippled down the length of death row.

Nearly a minute later, Killinger got his feet. He came to the bars and said: "If you get a chance, warden, thank the governor for me."

Governor Lausche commuted Killinger's death sentence only about 11 hours before he was scheduled to walk to the electric chair.

BOUND OVER IN STABBING

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16—(AP)—Mrs. Ella Kendall, 44, of Columbus was bound over to the grand jury yesterday on a manslaughter charge in connection with the fatal stabbing of her husband, Oliver, 52. She was released on $1,000 bond.

Drop Bombs To Control Italy Flood

ROVIGO, ITALY, Nov. 16—(AP)—Planes were ordered out in pea soup fog today to drop bombs along the raging Po River in an effort to divert flood waters menacing Rovigo and Adrio.

Helicopters were pressed into service to rescue terrorized and isolated flood victims in northern Italy, where at least 80 persons have perished in the past week. Property damage runs into the millions. Hundreds of thousands of acres of the fertile Po valley are under water, damaging crops.

over whether a cease-fire line in Korea should be fixed immediately or after other armistice terms are agreed upon. But, while both sides have changed their demands since the talks began, neither brought anything new into Friday's argument.

Says Atrocities Holding Up Talks

TOKYO, Nov. 16—(AP)—A highly placed officer said today the unscheduled announcement that Red troops murdered more than 5,000 American prisoners has stripped the veil of mystery from what has been holding up Korean armistice talks.

The general officer, who is exceptionally well informed on truce negotiations, said:

"The Communists don't want to have to answer questions about what happened to their prisoners."

Since the talks began July 10, both the Communist and United Nations delegations have done several abrupt about faces. Each change has been explained by thousands of words of propaganda.

The average haul of all mail in the U.S. is now 561 miles, according to The American Magazine.

Patrol Building Planned

and Van Wert. For administrative purposes, the state is divided into five patrol districts.

First Graduation Event

Eighteen years ago on Nov. 15, 1933, 60 young men were graduated from the first Ohio State Patrol Training School which was conducted at Camp Perry, O. The 60 young men who were selected from several thousand applications and were appointed and sworn into office as Highway Patrolmen, took their 54 motorcycles and 6 cars and reported to their respective Patrol Posts throughout Ohio under the command of Colonel Lynn Black. It was on that date that the Ohio State Highway Patrol began its very first operation as a law enforcement agency. Sixteen of the original force of 60 officers are still members of the department.

The Patrol is now under the leadership of Colonel George Mingle, who succeeded Colonel Black following his death in 1944 Colonel Mingle, an inspector at the time of Colonel Black's death, rose from the ranks and was one of the original 60 patrolmen.

Manpower Increasing

Since 1933 many increases in manpower have been granted to the Patrol by the Ohio Legislature. Now, 18 years later, the authorized strength is 650 uniform officers. There are now 400 officers. This number will be increased in December by at least 30 upon graduation of the 33rd Patrol School which is presently being conducted.

According to Colonel Mingle every effort is being made to bring the force up to its full complement of 650 within as short a time as possible. "Training school and schedules are being accelerated and we need qualified manpower to maintain our training schedule and expansion program," he said.

The position of State Highway Patrolman is offered to qualified men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are residents of Ohio, are at least 5 feet 8 inches in height, weight 165 pounds and have a high school education or its equivalent. In addition to these basic requirements, applicants must successfully pass the entrance examinations as required by the Patrol for admission to the Training School.

Duties Expanded

With manpower additions to the Patrol there have been corresponding additional duties and responsibilities relegated to the organization over and above its original responsibility of enforcement of the motor vehicle laws.

The Patrol now enforces laws relative to the breaking and entering of farm lands, the theft of livestock, grain, feed, etc. The Patrolman is today a farmer's policeman as well as a traffic officer. Enforcement of the state laws relative to the sale of coal and coke by short weights is now also within the jurisdiction of the Highway Patrol.

Since 1942 the Patrol has, through its force of 75 driver license examiners, conducted all examination for drivers licenses. Approximately 260,000 persons are examined each year.

The 1947 Legislature conferred upon the Patrol the right to exercise full police authority on all state owned and leased properties; extended its traffic authority to include jurisdiction over traffic violations on the streets of municipalities and charged the organization with the investigation of all aircraft accidents in the state and enforcement of the laws pertaining to the operation of aircraft. To carry out its aeronautical responsibilities, the Patrol now owns and operates two airplanes which are based at Columbus, O. During 1950, 97 plane crashes were investigated and 14 pilots were arrested and convicted for unsafe flying. The planes operated by the Patrol are a Cessna 170 and a Beechcraft Bonanza. Both are four place planes

Other activities of the Patrol include inspection of more than 6,000 school buses which transport daily to and from school more than 350,000 pupils. Patrol officers deliver over 3,000 safety lectures every year before a total of more than 250,000 persons.

In contrast to the 6 Patrol cars and 54 motorcycles which was the extent of the motor vehicle equipment in 1933, the Patrol is now operating 300 cars and 90 motorcycles.

The early motor equipment was not radio equipped as it is today. Officers on patrol then depended upon a call station system when away from their headquarters. In contrast to that all of the 300 pieces of equipment operated by the Patrol today are equipped with two-way radio. The Patrol officer by use of the two-way radio is always in instant contact with his headquarters. The Patrol communication system is considered one of the most efficient state police radio systems in the nation. It handles over a million and one half police messages annually as compared to the 33,000 messages so handled during its first year of operation.

Follies

was chairman of the make-up and properties committee.

From the minute the curtain went up on the rousing opening number, "What Is A Show Without Girls?" sung and danced by the girls' and men's choruses, it was apparent that Marion had produced a show of near-professional caliber with local talent.

Particularly effective among the production numbers was the effectively-lighted waltz scene, "Come Dance With Me," which included a vocal duet by Mrs. Virginia Griffiths and Don Preuninger and a ballet by Miss Jacqueline Irvine. They were assisted by the glee club and a dancing ensemble of 20 men and women.

Miss Peggy Bacon was featured in dance solos in two of the show's loveliest scenes, the exotic "Far Eastern Fantasy," in which she portrayed a harem princess, and "After-Dark Treasures." The latter scene featured a style show of afternoon and evening fashions modeled by eight members of the cast.

Precision dancing by a chorus of high school girls was a high spot of the show in the "Co-Ed Cuties" number. The girls danced to the tune of "Bye, Bye, Baby," which was sung by Bud Mathiot.

Comedy Dance Featured

"Cafe D'Les Artists," a Parisian number complete with "gigolos" and "ma'mselles," featured a comedy dance by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lenavitt. Mr. Lenavitt also appeared as soloist for a humorous song entitled "Lovable, Kissable Me," written by Mr. Rogers, director of the show.

Another song written by Mr. Rogers, "Who Cares, As Long As There's Love?", was sung by Mrs. Barbara McDonald. Other straight musical numbers included Mrs. Sharon Barnhart's rendition of "I Am Loved" and two selections by the Eagles barbershop quartet, composed of Arthur Ward, William Busch, Robert Heimlich, and Hubert Hoch.

Light song and dance numbers were "Girls Tried and True," featuring Mrs. Virginia Diehl and a mink-clad chorus, "Fabulous Twenties," featuring a Charleston chorus and a vocal solo by Warren Augenstein, and "Cross-Bones County," in which a group of "cow girls" and "cow pokes" sang and danced to "It's a Quiet Town."

Four comedy skits added variety and a touch of vaudeville to the show. Miss Jean Witt surprised the audience with her "concealed musical instrument" in a skit called "Politics," which also featured Bill Fretz, Joe Casey, and Mrs. McDonald.

Mrs. Bertha Altmaier was the exasperating customer in a scene entitled "If the Shoe Fits." The locale was a shoe store and Ted Mitchell was the long-suffering clerk.

Lewis Ashworth and Keith Maloney, as Indian braves, were led on a merry chase by Mrs. Martha Moore, sweet Indian maiden of the "Olentangy Chick Chick" number.

"Having a Wonderful Time," concerned a psychopathic doctor, Len Elliott, who decided that life would be "a bed of sweet neuroses" if his patient, played by Mrs. Lois Morgan, would marry him. Mrs. Marge Harmon played the role of nurse.

Fun at Owens Station

Perhaps the most amusing, but most indescribable, scene in the show was "Fox Hunting at Owens Station," in which eight men, dressed in bright red hunters' jackets with tails and pastel net skirts, leaped singly, in pairs, and altogether over low hurdles, in the manner of circus ponies.

The hilarious "fox hunting" scene was followed by the finale, in which the entire cast gathered on the stage to sing "Guys and Dolls." An appreciative audience expressed gratitude for an enjoyable two hours by calling the cast back to repeat the closing chorus three times.

POSTMASTER NOW CARRIER

BOWLING GREEN, O., Nov. 16—(AP)—Postmaster Harry Bavis of Bowling Green quit yesterday to become a carrier on a 60-mile rural free delivery route. He began his career as a rural carrier at nearby Portage. Franklin Metz was named acting postmaster.

Man Near Carey Shot in First Hunting Mishap

Special to The Star

CAREY, Nov. 16—First hunting accident of the season reported in Wyandot County occurred at 9:30 a.m. Thursday near Carey.

Lester Welday, 59, of Smithfield, O., was injured when he received a full shotgun charge in the right thigh, the shot being fired from about 8 to 10 feet away. The shot came from the gun of his brother, with whom he was hunting. The name of the injured man's brother was not obtained.

The accident occurred four and one-half miles north of Carey, near the Smith Chemical Plant.

Welday was injured when his brother, after shooting a rabbit, turned quickly around and accidentally discharged another shot, striking Welday. He was taken to the Blanchard Hospital at Findlay in the Bristoll ambulance of Carey. His condition is "serious."

Cleveland Hunter Killed

By The Associated Press

A Cleveland man today was the first accidental shooting death in Ohio's pheasant and rabbit hunting season which opened yesterday.

Philip Chennell, 40, was killed near Salem late yesterday when his shotgun discharged accidentally.

Six other deaths marked the first day of the season.

Two hunters died of carbon monoxide poisoning and four died of heart attacks. At least 19 persons received gunshot wounds.

One hunter, Arthur R. Bishop of Columbus, reported he was beaten and robbed of two rabbits and a pheasant by two elderly men near the Columbus Zoo.

OSU TO DEDICATE UNION

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16—(AP)—The new four million dollar Ohio Union building at Ohio State University will be dedicated Saturday in a ceremony as part of the university's homecoming program.

More than 20,000 OSU graduates, representing those who in the past contributed to its financing, have been invited for the ceremony.

House To Explore Tax Frauds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—A House Ways and Means Subcommittee went ahead today with plans to explore publicly justice department handling of tax fraud prosecutions.

The committee's decision to go ahead with its inquiry was taken despite President Truman's statement yesterday that he had made no promises about giving the subcommittee access to justice department files.

Order New Cuts in Use Of Metals

Civilian Allocation Of Steel, Copper, Aluminum Trimmed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—Production officials predicted today that new cuts ordered in civilian use of scarce metals after Jan. 1 represent the worst that will befall industry and consumers.

The National Production Authority (NPA) announced last night that the auto-truck industry will be allotted only 60 per cent of the steel plate needed to meet scheduled production of 930,000 cars and 24,000 trucks during January, February and March.

This could mean an ultimate rise in price ceilings on cars and trucks. NPA Administrator Manley Fleischmann asked the industry to make up the plate shortage by using a more expensive but less critical form called "conversion steel."

Other Metals Cut

NPA also announced last night that manufacturers of "less essential" consumer goods will get an average of only 10 per cent of copper, 20 per cent of aluminum and 50 per cent of steel as compared with their pre-Korea usage.

On this list of drastically curtailed items are sporting goods, lamps, venetian blinds, springs and mattresses, dolls, toys and games, cigaret lighters, Christmas decorations, umbrellas, jewelry, signs and advertising displays.

A long list of "more essential" products also will be curtailed but not severely. Fifty percent of steel, 35 per cent of copper and 35 per cent of aluminum will go to the makers of refrigerators, washing machines, radio and television sets, lawn mowers and other products ranging down to zippers, buttons and pins.

Seeks Removal Of Sheriff

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16—(AP)—The state liquor enforcement chief said today he will ask Gov. Frank J. Lausche to remove the Geauga County sheriff from office.

The sheriff, Stuart M. Harland, was convicted yesterday of giving special privileges to George Gordon while Gordon was serving 60 days for operating gambling at the Pettibone Club.

Anthony A. Rutkowski, liquor enforcement chief, said Harland could be removed under a new law enacted two months ago. The law makes a sheriff liable to removal for misconduct or neglect of duty and authorizes the governor to file removal proceedings in the common pleas court of the sheriff's county.

Johnston Quits As ESA Head

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—Eric Johnston has resigned as head of the Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) to return to his job as president of the Motion Picture Association. A search, so far unfruitful, is on for a successor.

President Truman announced acceptance of the resignation yesterday at his vacation headquarters in Key West, Fla. He did so with "real regret" and "extreme reluctance," Mr. Truman said.

In an exchange of letters, the President thanked Johnston for building ESA into an "efficient and going concern to cope with the problems that lie ahead."

Johnston wrote that as a private citizen he would "continue to do everything within my power to promote a national policy to prevent inflation."

"Cut Rate" Plan's Future Dubious

U.S. Considers Renewal Of World Wheat Pact

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—Soon to come up for government consideration is the question of whether the United States wants to extend a world pact under which it is selling wheat abroad at "cut-rate" prices.

At present, American wheat is made available to eligible foreign buyers at prices ranging from 67 to 73 cents a bushel less than domestic users pay.

The pact—called the international wheat agreement—has been in effect since Aug. 1, 1949. Since then foreign buyers have saved roughly 350 million dollars on their wheat bill to this country. The agreement has only one more year to run.

Participants in the agreement are 42 wheat importing countries and three major wheat exporting countries. The latter comprise Canada, Australia and the United States. The agreement sets export and import quotas and fixes prices.

At the time the agreement was signed, prices were going down, and the pact looked like a good deal to help this country hold foreign markets at reasonable prices.

Trend Reversed

But the change in international conditions last year reversed the price trend. For nearly two years, the U. S. price has been above the export price set by the agreement. As a consequence, this country is committed to sell at the lower export price. The government is making up the difference from the Treasury.

Despite the cost, the Truman administration is expected to join other countries soon in negotiating an extension of the agreement. The extension would have to be ratified by the Senate. The issue is expected to come up at the next session of Congress.

Agriculture Department officials defend the agreement. They say it helps U. S. wheat growers to hold markets abroad. Without the agreement, they say, wheat prices might be depressed to a point where many domestic growers would be forced out of production.

"By making United States wheat competitive with that from other exporting countries in the world market, the agreement is a means of supporting our domestic program for wheat," the department said in a recent report.

The department sought to minimize the cost. It said that "a substantial part" of the cost is "in the nature of a 'bookkeeping transaction,' since it is offset by a corresponding savings in the foreign aid programs which financed more than half the purchases."

In other words, the department says, if it were not for the cut-rate prices offered under the agreement, the U. S. would have had to grant more dollars than it did to foreign countries for purchase of wheat.

If this argument is accepted, the agreement then becomes more of a device for extending foreign economic aid than a program for stabilizing wheat prices and markets.

As yet, little opposition has developed to suggestions that the agreement be extended. But that may not be true when and if the question comes up for a vote in the Senate.

Peace Contest Set At Green Camp

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — The annual Prince of Peace declamation contest will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Baptist Church.

Speakers will be Marilyn Lindley, "Peace and Free Enterprise"; Charlotte Klein, "Accent on Youth"; Donna Converse, "The Essence of Peace"; Rebecca Converse, "The Road to Right"; and George Barber, "Ralph Burche."

The contest is sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches. The winner in the local contest will be awarded a bronze medal and be eligible to participate in the county contest at a later date. Rev. A. H. Nothstine is pastor of the host church.

To Start Another Class at Galion School

GALION — Overcrowded conditions at the South School in Galion will necessitate the establishment of another half-day kindergarten at the building. This was decided at the November meeting of the Galion board of education held Wednesday.

The board authorized the kindergarten and the employment of a teacher for the class. The teacher was not hired at the Wednesday night meeting.

H. Sautter of South St. was employed as custodian for the South School. Sautter will fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Leonard Huber. Huber's resignation was accepted by the board Wednesday.

The board instructed Clerk Isabel Monroe to request the civil service commission to hold another examination for secretary at the Junior High School.

Bi-Weekly Baking News
All "bought" cakes aren't alike
Lots of folks think that all "bought" cakes are alike. They think they're all made with some inferior shortening, and they'd rather eat a piece of bread and jam. Well, we think bread and jam is swell, but we'd kind of like to set you straight on the cake situation. We make cake, marvelous home-made cake, and we use the finest ingredients money can buy. Try one of our cakes, just once, and you'll find out that all "bought" cakes are not alike.

Remodeling Completed

Prospect To Rededicate Church Founded In 1846

ZION EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHURCH AT PROSPECT

Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church at Prospect founded in 1846, will be rededicated Sunday after rebuilding and redecoration work, and the 105th anniversary will be celebrated.

Rev. Robert C. Dillor of Alliance, a former pastor, will give the dedicatory sermon at the 10:30 a.m. service. Attending with the celebrant congregation and friends will be members of the Emanuel Church at Green Camp, other congregation of the Prospect and Green Camp Evangelical and Reformed Charge. Rev. Eugene T. Henzel is pastor.

The work of repairing, redecorating and repainting the Zion house of worship has been under way since last summer. Final touch recently was repair of the stained glass windows.

New Outer Covering

In place of the old outside walls of stucco, which had begun to crack and fall off, an entire new outer covering of concrete has been made, frame in permastone corners. This work was done under direction of Pinney contractors of Delaware, and material and labor was supplied by the Columbus Permastone Co. The building committee included Dan Lauer, Earl Beers, Vern Gast, W. W. Wottring, Sherman Biggerstaff, Isaac Baumgartner, Mrs. Mabel Bricker, Otto Knickel, Mrs. Marie Knickel, Miss Emma Stuckey, Mrs. Helen Griffith, and Robert Stuckey.

The history of the church goes back to pre-Civil War years. While services of the Reformed denomination were held in Prospect as early as 1845, it was the following year that the church there was organized officially. It had 25 members. The original constitution was written in German. There was no Sunday School until about 1870. Not until 1929 was there a written budget.

The first small building where worship was held was rented. During depression in the 1870s all members were called on to help pay the church rent. In 1871, it was decided church ownership would be cheaper than renting, and a building fund was started. In 1874, conditions improved. A building committee was appointed

Site Donated

Jacob Wottring donated the site for the church and parsonage, the land valued at $330. Plans were made to build a church 32x50 ft. not to exceed $2,000. In July, 1874, the cornerstone was laid with services held in the Methodist Church, and in October, the church was dedicated. Two years later, additional funds were available for furnishings, with items given by members including an organ, stoves, pulpit and lamps, bell, carpet, chandelier and furniture. Total cost of the church and furnishings was $3,920.85.

In 1920, the church was remodeled at cost of $12,000, and on the day of dedication in March, the congregation was free of indebtedness. An addition to the church was started in September, 1937 and dedicated in March, 1938. The cost was $3,800. Included were two Sunday School class rooms, a kitchen, and rest rooms.

The cost of the remodeling just completed was approximately $6,000. Present membership of the church is 125.

Girl, 10, Youngest Radio 'Ham'

ON THE AIR — Cheri Ann Westcott, 10, is licensed to operate her own amateur radio station.

ONTARIO, Ore.—(AP)—Just about the youngest voice in some 90,000 going out over the air from amateur radio stations in this country comes from this eastern Oregon city

When WN7PWY is calling, the voice is that of Cheri Ann Westcott, who was 10 years old last May.

She is licensed, just like all the other "ham" operators. That means she passed a test in international Morse code, in radio theory and in communication law, and then the Federal Communications Commission mailed the license to her.

Her first talk-fest after being licensed was with a 16-year-old boy in Cody, Wyo. — WN7TVI.

One of the reasons Cheri Ann got off to an early start: Her father, Ray Westcott, has been a ham operator himself for a number of years.

Catholic Women Plan Activities

Plans for assisting in the nation-wide drive for clothing for Korean war victims and European refugees were discussed at a meeting of St. Mary Council, National Council of Catholic Women, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John J. Ryan of Durfee Dr. Mrs. Martin Gass was an associate hostess. The drive will get under way next week.

Other activities of the near future include the placing of posters in the business section of the city asking citizens to cooperate with the slogan, "Put Christ Back Into Christmas." Plans were discussed for the Christmas charities and it was voted to cooperate with St Vincent de Paul Society in the care of less fortunate families at Christmas time.

The council is issuing an appeal for more women of St. Mary parish to join in the organization of a Red Cross canteen unit. Anyone interested is asked to contact Mrs. George Wright. Also at this time a class in the home care of the sick is being organized under the direction of Mrs. Wright. Persons interested in taking the course which will get under way in the near future, are asked to call Mrs. Wright, 2-9018.

President Sticks With "Fair Deal"

Will Fight GOP, Dixie for Enactment Of Entire Program

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 16—(AP)—A fighting President Truman continued intensive training here today for a 1952 political scrap which may rival in bitterness his successful re-election campaign of 1948.

Mr. Truman has determined to battle within the party as well as against the Republicans for enactment of his entire "Fair Deal" program from labor law changes to the bitterly controversial civil rights proposals which cost him four southern states four years ago.

No matter what decision he makes on whether to run for re-election, he made it clear yesterday that he intends to hold the reins of the Democratic party.

It seemed like a ready-made challenge to Gov. James F Byrnes of South Carolina, Sen Byrd (D-Va) and other leaders of the anti-Truman revolt when, asked at a news conference whether he will include "Fair Deal" demands in his state of the union message, he said, of course, and added:

And it will be a part of the Democratic platform.

Then, in a manner so familiar to "give 'em Hell" campaign audiences, he chuckled and said that he'll guarantee that.

He looked very sporty, sitting there on a palm-shaded lawn outside his naval station winter White House just a few steps away from the Atlantic Ocean.

He had a tail-out sport shirt, open at the neck and with spotted figures of birds. Light blue slacks and white sport shoes completed his attire.

He is feeling well, he said, but getting an immense amount of work done, since he can work during the day without interruption of callers and get sleep at night.

Anderson Sees United Front

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-N M) said today he believes the Democratic party split over President Truman's civil rights program can be closed in time to "give us a united front" in the 1952 elections.

But Sen. Byrd (D-Va), a leader of the Dixie opposition to the controversial program, declared the indications at this time "appear to be all against" a new unity.

Byrd pointed to Mr. Truman's prediction yesterday that his "Fair Deal" program, which includes civil rights legislation, will be part of the platform the Democrats adopt at the party's nominating convention next July.

BG's Durig Eyes Record

BOWLING GREEN, O., Nov. 16—Two records can be written into Bowling Green State University's football history and Bob Whittaker's coaching record when the Falcons conclude the season at Bradley Saturday.

The first new mark is a cinch with junior fullback Fred Durig already the nation's leading small-college ground gainer and what he adds to his 1,238 yards at Peoria will be BG's best in 33 years of football.

The other mark will only come should the Falcons drop their fifth game of the season—which would give Whittaker his poorest season in 22 years as a head coach. A victory will give the Falcons a 4-4-1 record, which far surpasses early season predictions of Whittaker and staff.

Even at that, the veteran Ohio scholastic and collegiate mentor has an outstanding record in his 22 years, 11 at Sandusky and the same at BGSU. The former Miami halfback has won over 70 per cent of the 204 games that his teams have played.

If Durig can maintain his 155 yard game average, the all-Ohio and Little All-American candidate will come close to the 1,400 yard mark for the 9-game season. He has scored 8 touchdowns and been responsible for setting up several others for teammates.

All-American List Grows

Candidates Now Total 155 Names

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—(AP)—Five players forged to the front today in their bid for All-America honors. Of the 19 nominated this week, five were named once before — and these double votes go a long way toward strengthening their bids for posts on the dream team.

Under the rules of selecting this year's Associated Press All-America—which will be released on Dec. 6 after the returns from all the big games are in—a player needs to be nominated but once.

The five repeaters are:

Larry Isbell, Baylor quarterback (offense).

Don Coleman, Michigan State tackle (offense).

Les Richter, California linebacker (defense).

Hugh McElhenny, Washington halfback (offense).

Babe Parilli, Kentucky quarterback (offense).

The other nominations this week, which brought the entire list up to 155 names were:

(Offense)

East—Vernon Wynott, Columbia back

Missouri Valley—Rick Hampel, Houston end.

Southern—Rufus Barkley, Virginia quarterback.

Rocky Mountain—Ray Oliverson, Brigham Young halfback.

Big Seven — Tony Scardino, Missouri halfback.

(Defense)

East—Todd Kolb, Cornell end.

Missouri Valley—J. D. Edmiston, Wichita tackle

Border—Cush Holder, Hardin-Simmons tackle.

Midwest—Fran Kush, Michigan State guard.

Southern — Dick (Little Moe) Modzelewski, Maryland tackle.

Rocky Mountain—Joe Mohorcich, Colorado Aggie linebacker.

Southwest—Bill Athey, Baylor guard.

Southeastern — Marion Campbell, Georgia tackle.

Big Seven—Don Brandy, Colorado end.

McDougald, Mays Share Honors As Rookies-of-Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—(AP)—Handy Gil McDougald of the champion New York Yankees and Willie Mays of the New York Giants share rookie-of-the-year honors for 1951.

Selection of McDougald and Mays was made by the same 24-man committees of the Baseball Writers Association of America (three from each league city) that picked the most valuable players.

McDougald shuttled between third base and second base as Manager Casey Stengel benched either Bobby Brown or Gerry Coleman, depending on the opposition pitcher. He was the only .300 hitter on the pennant-winning Yanks and a real steady performer all season.

McDougald came up to the Yanks from the Beaumont farm of the Texas League, highly touted by Rogers Hornsby, his minor league boss. His unorthodox batting stance drew grins the first time around the league. On May 3 he drove in six runs in the ninth inning with a triple and grand slam homer. He also hit a bases-loaded homer in the series. Seasonwise, he batted .306, hit 14 homers.

The National League vote was a landslide for Mays with 18 of the 24 ballots.

Mays started the season with Minneapolis in the American Association where he was hitting .477 when recalled by the Giants, in May. Ousting Bobby Thomson from his centerfield job, Mays played fine ball, showed a strong arm and a great speed and finished with a .274 average. Caught in the grip of a late season slump, Mays was of little help to the Giants in the playoff and World Series.

Prexies Eye Weather In Title Game Tonight

through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

PORTRAITS. Both the Saturday Evening Post and Time Magazine came out this week with articles on Vic Janowicz and Dick Kazmaier of Princeton respectively.

Time's writeup on Kazmaier, a Maumee, O., product, is akin to the drum pounding a college publicist usually sends out to get his school an All-American candidate.

Superlatives are sprinkled liberally throughout the writeup of Flashy Dick whose teams have beaten such "powerhouses' this season as Brown, Yale, Colgate, and other lesser teams.

It is the first time the magazine has featured a football player the man of the week since Bob Chappius, former Michigan halfback, was given the same treatment in 1948. Chappius went on to become the biggest flop pro-football has known.

KEEPING POSTED. The Post writeup, on the other hand, is an excellent, penetrating piece on what could happen to any high school youngster who excels on the gridiron.

It does more than describe Janowicz as a football player, it considers him from the standpoint of a youth—something seldom done in this day of big time football.

Stanley Frank also dispels the myth of closet-filled wardrobes and flashy convertibles that Vic is supposed to have received for picking OSU over 59 other college offers.

MIDDLE OF THE ROAD. Frank's article is neither pro nor con on the present system of subsidization of Janowicz. It points out that Vic, as one of eight children in Elyria, would never have been financially able to attend college if it wasn't for his football prowess.

On the other hand it describes the unfair pressure that surrounded Vic and the effect it has had on him as a student.

There is only one inconsistency we found in the whole article. Discussing Janowicz's run-in with the law last summer, the circumstances are largely different from the news stories.

Press releases said Vic and his teammates were in a car and the OWU youths were hitchhiking a ride back to Delaware when Janowicz, Doyle, and Fisher got out of the car and attacked them. The Post story reads just the opposite.

THE WORD. But all local OSU followers will want to read "The Woes of An All-American." It is one of the finest articles we have read yet on the subject.

Mr. Frank gave a fair and impartial report.

Character Means Points in This Football Game

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Nov. 16 —(AP)—Two of the officials at the Swarthmore-Haverford traditional Quaker grid game tomorrow won't care a hang about the scoring.

They're not there to judge strictly according to the rules of the game. They will judge character—of the teams and of the individual players.

It's a new experiment for college football, tried successfully on the sandlot.

The "character officials" will sit in the press box with "character score cards." They will observe which players show the most respect for authority, which players and team have the will to compete, which side excels in bench conduct, player conduct, fan conduct, mental poise, alertness, perfection, physical fitness and appearance.

After the game, the "character officials" will consult with game officials and the coaches of both teams concerning their reactions to those qualities, as shown on the field.

On the basis of points awarded for each category, the top individual character display and the team showing the better traits will be chosen.

Swarthmore Coach Lew Elverson thinks it's a great idea. Says Elverson:

"The forearms has become a lethal weapon in football and the game is played much rougher today than when I was a player. I think it's a good idea to impress upon kids that there is more to the game of football than winning.

"They're Getting Older"

Brown Has Trouble Getting Players "Up" for Giants

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16—(AP) —Coach Paul Brown is worried his Cleveland team won't be able to get "up" for Sunday's pro football game against the New York Giants.

And they will have to be plenty "up" if they expect to beat the Giants, who have given them more trouble than any other team in the National Football League and now threaten their hold on first place in the league's American division race.

The champs never have failed to put out their best game when it counted most; but "they're getting older and it's harder for them to do it now," Brown added. The starting offensive line averages more than 28 years.

Can't Tell

"You can't tell before the game starts whether it will be one of their good or bad days," he continued. "Last week they looked good in practice but we didn't play a good game."

Cleveland had to come from behind and score two touchdowns and two field goals in the second half to beat Philadelphia, 20-17.

The Browns have won one more game than the Giants, "but we paid a bigger price to win than the Giants," Brown declared.

"We made that trip to the coast the Giants missed and we play a tougher schedule," he explained.

The Browns play three tough opponents in the national division —Los Angeles, the Chicago Bears and San Francisco. The Giants have only two games outside the American Division—and both of those are with the New York Yanks, who have yet to win a game.

The Browns lost at San Francisco, 24-10, and won at Los Angeles, 38-23. A week from Sunday they play the Bears who are tied with Los Angeles for first in the National division.

Cleveland has won six and lost one while the Giants have won five, tied one and lost one.

Rest Period

Pointing up his belief that the Giants have had things easier, Brown said he had read the New York club had allowed Tackle Al De Rogatis to sit out last Sunday's win over Washington although he had recovered from injuries.

"We never could have saved a top player," Brown said.

Steve Owen, the Giant coach, has been complaining the Browns would not allow the New Yorkers to practice on the Municipal Stadium turf before the first game this season between the clubs.

It had been raining and Brown asserts the Giants—and the Browns—were kept off the playfield so that it wouldn't be ruined for the game which the Browns won, 14-13.

"Owen knows that," he continued, "He's just trying to 'coke up' the New York fans for Sunday's game. He wants them to get behind the Giants and yell for them like Cleveland yells for us."

Wet Field Would Aid Fremont Ross

By JOHN SHORT

A mixture of early-morning snow and rain, if continued all day, was expected to play a major part in the outcome of tonight's championship struggle between Harding's Presidents and Fremont Ross.

A wet field would benefit the Giants more than the locals. The Fremont crew relies mainly on a sound ground game with little passing. Wet grounds and a slippery ball would prevent Harding taking to the air on Tom McClain's southpaw heaves.

The Prexies wound up their drills for the Buckeye League title scrap with a little session last night and Harding coaches say they are in top condition.

Helpful to Fremont

However, a wet field would be a definite advantage for the visitors. The heavier line as well as the attack, featuring Jerome Surratt and John Lewis, would benefit.

Both teams are high for the game and a nip and tuck struggle is expected. Winner of the tilt will take the championship of the Buckeye League. Favored Fremont goes into the game with a 3-0 record in loop play while Harding boasts a record of two wins and a tie with Fostoria. Should the Prexies win, it will be their first Buckeye title.

Twelve seniors will be shooting for the prized flag tonight for Harding and spirit is high. The boys really want the game and are promising their top effort of the year.

BADGERS FAVORED

CHICAGO, Nov. 16—(AP)—Wisconsin is favored to capture both the team and individual championship again today in the Annual Western Conference cross country meet. The Big Ten and central collegiate conferences will hold cross country events simultaneously in Washington Park on the southside.

Irish Take Gray-Y Title

Defeat Mark, 6-0, In Touch Football

St. Mary's tough football team defeated Mark Street for the championship of the American Gra-Y League yesterday afternoon in a replay of a previous league game, 6-0.

The victory gives the midget Irish a record of 5 wins and no losses and will pit them against the Pearl Street gridders who last Saturday won the National League crown. Pearl ended the season with four wins and one tie and were unscored on in five games.

The championship game between the two Gra-Y league leaders will be played off tomorrow morning at Harding High School practice field at 11:00 a.m., weather permitting. Teams may call the YMCA to determine the status of the game.

The Gra-Y Football program is sponsored by the Marion YMCA, a Red Feather Agency, through the cooperation of the elementary schools.

THORPE RELEASED

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16—(AP)—Jim Thorpe, famed Indian athlete, is being discharged from Lankenau Hospital today after an operation for a lip cancer. Doctors at Lankenau said the surgery, performed last week, was successful. The 63-year-old Thorpe will go to New York within a few days to resume performances with his traveling all-Indian show.

Bucks, Illini Both Have High Morale As Game Nears

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16—(AP)—Ohio State and Illinois — sparked by All-Americans Vic Janowicz and Johnny Karras — tangle in Ohio Stadium tomorrow, and the word is:

Hold your hats!

It's do or die for both teams to use a fresh phrase.

The unbeaten Illini flew into Columbus last night determined to clinch a bid to the Rose Bowl.

And Ohio State's unpredictable Buckeyes, primed by music-therapy and old Knute Rockne pep talks, are bursting with derring-do.

The coaches, as usual, are given to worry and guarded statement.

As Illinois' Ray Eliot put it last night: "Ohio State has a terrific all-around team."

Ohio State's bulky mentor, Woody Hayes, is worried about star right end Bob Joslin not playing. Joslin received a head injury in practice.

Eliot claimed his boys were "just taking this one like any other game, one at a time." And Illinois has been taking them all year.

But the Buckeyes' morale is higher than usual. Scout Ernie Godfrey has been spinning records in the dressing room—getting his charges to harmonize on "Good Night Irene" and absorb exhortations by that expert exhorter, Knute Rockne.

The psychological barrage seems to be working. Observers say the Buckeyes sure want to take Illinois.

Ohio Stadium will be cheek by jowl full of people to see if they can.

Wolfe Wins; Nichols Here Next Week

Joe Wolfe won the main event of last night's wrestling card at the armory by whipping Bill Zimovich in two out of three falls.

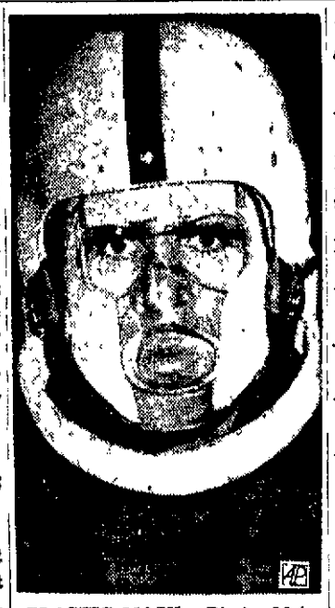
He won the first fall in 14 minutes with a cradle hold but lost the second to Zimovich after nine minutes with a crab hold. Zimovich was disqualified in the third fall when he tied Wolfe in the ropes.

George Macriscostas, the Golden Greek, beat Juan Hernandez in two straight falls in the second bout. He took the first in 18 minutes with a sleeper hold and came back to grab the second after only five minutes.

George Drake, after winning the first fall from Al Tucker in 16 minutes, was awarded the second when Tucker refused to break a hold.

Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced Marvin Mercer and Jackie Nichols would meet in the main event next week. The junior heavyweight title bout will highlight a Thanksgiving card. Also on the holiday bill will be a bout between Loraine Johnson and Carol Carota and one between Bobby Watts and Al Cortez.

Mining did not begin on Norway's island of Spitsbergen until 1905.



PLASTIC MASK. Bimbo Melton, Alabama halfback whose jaw was broken on the first play of the Tennesee-Alabama football game, will use this protective mask to play against Georgia Tech, Saturday at Birmingham. Melton, small but shifty is one of 'Bama's top runners.

Blackout This Week for TV Football Viewers

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 14—WLW-C, Columbus, has its second and last blackout on the NCAA-Westinghouse football schedule this Saturday, Nov. 17.

Elsewhere in the country 39 NBC TV stations are divided among three games, thus providing a "regional" arrangement in the NCAA experimental program. 16 stations in the Midwest are telecasting the Nebraska-Colorado game from Lincoln, Nebraska, 14 TV stations in the East will air the Navy-Columbia tilt at New York and 9 Southeastern stations will carry the Maryland-North Carolina State game at College Park, Md.

Next Saturday, Nov. 24, WLW-C, joins the NBC coast-to-coast network for the telecast of the Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor.

Crisler Backs Present Football

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 16—(AP)—Fritz Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director, says spring practice and bowl games are only minor considerations in the whole picture of football over-emphasis.

In an interview yesterday, Crisler indicated that he would defend the two-platoon system, spring practice and bowl games at the council meeting of the NCAA in Chicago Monday and Tuesday.

Richwood Cage Team Bolstered By Four Returning Lettermen

RICHWOOD, Nov. 16—Coach R. D. Fetter today announced an 18-game basketball schedule for the Richwood Tigers, opening with a home game against Morral Nov. 21.

Starting his tenth year as coach, Fetter has four lettermen back from last year's Union County championship team. They are Dick Griffith, Dick Hosey, Dick Oman, and Bob Cheney. Don McDaniel who played with Harding last year is a transfer student and will see plenty of action.

Other candidates being groomed for the varsity are Sam Bumgarner, Ron Dildine, Tom Shields, and Sam Pierce. Three are 6-2 or better in height and the other four are an even 6.

Tough Games

Toughest games on the Tiger schedule loom with Marion St. Mary, Elm Valley, Cardington, Plain City, Marysville, and Columbus University.

Following is the schedule: Nov. 21, Morral, Nov. 23, Harpster, Nov. 30, Orange, Dec 4, Cardington, Dec. 7, at Marysville, Dec. 11, at Elm Valley, Dec. 14, at Darby, Dec. 21, Big Walnut, Jan. 4, Northwestern, Jan. 8, at Plain City, Jan. 11, at Union, Jan. 15, Marion St. Mary, Jan. 18, at Byhalia, Jan. 25, Magnetic Springs, Jan. 26, at Pleasant, Feb. 1, Columbus University, Feb. 2, at Johnstown, Feb. 8, at Mt. Gilead.

Duel Seen As Janowicz, Karras Meet

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—(AP)—If they're ever going to sidetrack those two Rose Bowl evpresses—Stanford and Illinois—tomorrow is the day to do it.

These two unbeatens who have been bowling over their opposition all year, clash with rough hombres in Oregon State and Ohio State, respectively.

Illinois automatically gets the nomination for the Rose Bowl if Johnny Karras and his smooth functioning operatives can get past Ohio State and Vic Janowicz. The Buckeyes, preseason favorites to make the trip west on Jan. 1, have been having their troubles, but they're still no pushovers. They figure they're due to win a big one.

The big, bad Spartans from Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team in this week's Associated Press poll, face what should be a soft spot when they tackle Indiana.

The Cotton Bowl host could wind up Texas Christian, the current favorite in the Southwest Conference. The Horned Frogs must defeat Texas tomorrow, no little task.

Tennessee, the No 1 team in the nation until Michigan State's stunning 35-0 defeat of Notre Dame, goes against Mississippi in another assignment that should be relatively easy.

Notre Dame, incidentally, hopes to rebound at the expense of North Carolina, which has turned into a softie this year.

Michigan, the defending champion in the Big Ten, entertains Northwestern, while in other league games, Iowa visits Wisconsin and Purdue plays host to Minnesota.

Veterans and Draftees Guide

—By—

Major Thomas M. Nial

From G. H. W. of New York, N. Y.: "I'm married, classified 3-A, but we have no children. However, my wife is pregnant. Does that mean I'll be kept in class 3-A?"

Yes, but only if you get your family physician to send your draft board a certificate stating the child has been conceived. The board must get the certificate before it mails our induction orders or it will be too late.

From Mrs. C. G. W. of Plaquemine, La.: "My son in the Army has been missing in action in Korea since February, 1951. Shouldn't I get his NSLI and death compensation?"

Not until the Defense Department knows without a doubt that he's dead, no matter how long that will take. During World War II if a man was missing for a year and a day he was presumed dead, and death benefits were paid. But the Army says the Germans, Italians and Japanese were pretty dependable about reporting prisoners—unlike the Chinese Communists and North Koreans.

More than 10,000 American servicemen are reported missing in Korea but only 176 are known absolutely to be prisoners of the Communists. Unofficial estimates say the Communists actually hold about 4,500 POWs. Maybe the truce talks will enable the U. S. to find out who they are.

From B. O. H. of Oakland, Calif.: "Do parents of men killed in Korea get a gold star pin to wear?"

Yes. Widows and parents of men killed in Korea may apply for free gold star pins. So may widows and parents of men killed in World Wars I and II. Children, brothers and sisters of such men are also eligible to wear the pins but must pay $1.25 (C.O.D.) for them.

Application forms will be sent if you write the Army Adjutant-General, the Air Adjutant-General, the Bureau of Naval Personnel or Commandant of the Marine Corps, whichever is appropriate. All are at Washington 25, D. C.

From W.B.J. of San Antonio, Tex.: "I was in a GI course on the July 25 cut off date and will finish it in a couple months. May I then go on to another course?"

Only if the other course is "a normal progression" from your present course and will help you attain your education or vocation objective. Ask your VA regional office about it.

From K. F. D. of Key West, Fla.: "Are there any dividends under the servicemen's free indemnity?"

No.

(You may write Major Nial care of this newspaper about your own service-connected problem, but please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope).

ACROBAT KILLED. Evy Trostyle, 17, youngest member of the circus acrobat team, "The Great Arturos," died shortly after she fell 60 feet from a high wire during a circus performance in Baltimore, Md. She was doing a Spanish dance with balance pole when she fell.

"The Messiah" Rehearsal Set For Sunday

With 85 singers reporting at rehearsal for "The Messiah" last Sunday, the goal of Marion Civic Chorus participation is 100. A rehearsal will be held Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at Epworth Methodist Church for presentation of the oratorio there Dec. 2. Prof. Rexford Keller, head of the music department at Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, is the director. Mrs. E. N. Hale is chorus president and contralto soloist.

Guest soloists this year will be the Columbus and Springfield musicians heard last year in "The Messiah" here. They are Mrs. Janet Fenholt of Columbus, soprano, and Prof. John Bennett Ham, baritone, and Paul Mattes, tenor, both of Springfield.

At a chorus executive board meeting Wednesday at Hotel Harding, two new members were added, Edgar Barnhart and Wendell Ward. Officers with Mrs. Hale are Mrs. Fanny Benson, vice president; Mrs. Warren Wise, secretary; William Thomas, treasurer; and Mrs. H. K. Mouser and Mrs. William Ackerman Jr., music committee, and other board members are Rev. Don Hochstetler and Mrs. Lloyd E. Lutz. An Ohio Wesleyan string ensemble will be guest instrumentalists.

Chavez Takes On DeMarco

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—(AP)—Eddie Chavez of San Jose, Calif., another highly touted Pacific Coast fighter, invades Madison Square Garden tonight to face tough Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn in a 10-round lightweight match.

Chavez, who showed in New York two years ago as an 18-year-old prelim kid, hits the radio (ABC) and television (NBC) big time at 10 p.m. (EST).

Pleasant Band Parents Meet

Progress of Pleasant School's boginners and junior bands was discussed by Charles Toms, music director, when the Pleasant Band Parents met Monday night in the school auditorium. He also discussed the purchase of new school instruments.

Harold Price, president, conducted the business meeting during which Mrs. Dan McClaskey, Mrs. Wilbur Mochel, Emerson Dietch and Robert Baughman were appointed to the ways and means committee.

Trophies won by the Pleasant band at the Halloween parade were displayed for the parents.

The group made plans to present a spring festival. They also decided to hold meetings the second Thursday of each month.

INJURED IN TRAFFIC

UPPER SANDUSKY—William Hartman of Upper Sandusky is in Wyandot Memorial Hospital where he was taken Monday following an auto accident which occurred while he was walking across Wyandot Ave. He was struck by an eastbound auto. He received a fractured right leg and numerous body abrasions and contusions. He was taken to the hospital in the Bringman & Co. ambulance.

Today's Birthday

MELVIN E. PATTON, born Nov. 16, 1924, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Famous for being fast on his feet, he holds the world record for the 220 yard (and the 200 meter) dash with a time of 20.2 seconds as well as the world record for 100 yards with a time of 9.3 seconds.

Most of his track work was done as a student at the University of Southern California.

He is now teaching physical education at Long Beach City College.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—(UP)—Stocks moved irregularly at the opening today in quiet dealings.

Changes throughout the main list were small either way. A few individual stocks responded to favorable corporate news.

Trading was highly restricted and investors generally held to the sidelines pending developments in the foreign situation.

Steel shares were quiet in the first few minutes of dealings with a large number of pivotals failing to appear on the tape. The same prevailed for the automotive stocks.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bids for Sewer Construction

Sealed bids for the construction of a Sanitary Sewer in Bennett Street, from Clinton Street west to Brentwood Drive, will be received by the Safety-Service Director of the City of Marion, Ohio, at his office in the City Building, until 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on Friday the 7th day of December, 1951 and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read.

The work for which bids are invited consists of furnishing the material and doing the work necessary for the construction of approximately 520 feet of 12 inch vitrified pipe sewer, 8 feet to 10 feet deep, together with two manholes 7 feet and 8½ feet deep.

Copies of the advertisement, information for bidders, estimated quantities, contract, specifications and performance bond are on file in the office of the City Engineer and available for inspection by prospective bidders.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the sum of $100.00, made payable to the order of the Safety-Service Director, of the City of Marion, Ohio, as a guarantee that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. The check shall be forfeited if the said bidder fails to enter into a contract with the City of Marion, Ohio, and to furnish the required bond within fifteen days after notice of acceptance of his bid. Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished upon application.

The amounts bid for labor and materials must be entered separately and bids must be submitted in sealed envelopes plainly marked "Bid for Bennett Street Sanitary Sewer."

A performance bond of 50% of the amount of contract, with a satisfactory corporate surety, will be required for the faithful performance of the work.

Should any bid be rejected, the accompanying check will be returned to the bidder forthwith and should any bid be accepted, the check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

The right is reserved by the City of Marion, Ohio, to reject any or all bids.

Ralph E. Forrest,
Safety-Service Director.
Nov.16,23,1951.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bids for Sewer Construction

Sealed bids for the construction of an interceptor sewer, to be known as the Nile Street Interceptor, beginning at an existing manhole in the sanitary trunk sewer in West Center Street and on the center line of Cayuga Street and the center line produced northward across the New York Central and Erie Railroad Company right of way about 495 feet to a point in the east side of Kenton Avenue; thence northwesterly in the east side of Kenton Avenue about 630 feet to Niles Street; thence north in Niles Street about 780 feet to the storm water sewer in Silver Street, a total distance of about 1960 feet and there terminate, will be received by the Safety-Service Director of the City of Marion, Ohio at his office in the City Building, until 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 7th day of December, 1951, and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read.

The work for which bids are invited consists of furnishing the material and doing the work necessary for the construction of approximately 1905 feet of 18" Vitrified Pipe Sewer (average depth 21 feet of which approximately 12 feet is in Limestone), together with necessary Manholes and a Concrete Diversion Chamber.

Copies of the advertisement, information for bidders, estimated quantities, contract, specifications and performance bond are on file in the office of the City Engineer and available for inspection by prospective bidders.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the sum of $300.00, made payable to the order of the Safety-Service Director, of the City of Marion, Ohio as a guarantee that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. The check shall be forfeited if the said bidder fails to enter into a contract with the City of Marion, Ohio, and to furnish the required bond within fifteen days after notice of acceptance of his bid. Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished upon application.

The amounts bid for labor and materials must be entered separately and bids must be submitted in sealed envelopes plainly marked "Bid for Nile Street Interceptor."

A performance bond of 50% of the amount of contract, with a satisfactory corporate surety, will be required for the faithful performance of the work.

Should any bid be rejected, the accompanying check will be returned to the bidder forthwith and should any bid be accepted, the check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

The right is reserved by the City of Marion, Ohio, to reject any or all bids.

SHADOWING — BY THE TERM SHADOWING IS MEANT FOLLOWING A PERSON TO MAKE A NOTE OF THEIR ACTIONS, ETC. SHADOWING IS GENERALLY THE FIRST WORK GIVEN A BEGINNER BY A DETECTIVE AGENCY. WHEN SHADOWING A PERSON NEVER FOR AN INSTANT TAKE YOUR EYE OFF YOUR SUBJECT. NEVER GET TOO CLOSE TO YOUR SUBJECT. YOU SHOULD WEAR A SOFT HAT AND CARRY A CAP IN YOUR POCKET, AND CHANGE THEM OCCASIONALLY. THE DETECTIVE SHOULD NEVER TURN HIS HEAD, EVEN IF THE SHADOWED PERSON SHOULD TURN ABRUPTLY AROUND AND LOOK HIM SQUARE IN THE FACE; HE SHOULD KEEP ON WALKING JUST AS THOUGH HE NEVER SAW THE SHADOWED PERSON.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Too bad we have come to associate Thanksgiving with a full stomach instead of a full heart

* * *

But those who won't have turkey for Thanksgiving this year are reminded that not all the Pilgrims had white meat either

* * *

And if they could give thanks, with an Indian behind every tree, for the little they had, we should be able to muster up a little gratitude with a tax collector behind every item, for all we have.

* * *

My barber says he will settle for veal scalloppini and anybody who asks for the drumstick will be referred to the nearest music store.

* * *

But no matter what we have let us acknowledge that we are comparatively better off than most people . . . with or without chestnut dressing

As the old lady said when the heating pad seared her chemise "still it's better than chilling my chilblains."

The moral is, "Be twice as grateful for half as much and you'll be better off than being half as grateful for twice as much"

ATOMIC SCIENTISTS WIN NOBEL PRIZE AWARDS. Their work in forwarding the development of atomic energy brought 1951 Nobel Prizes to (from left) Prof. Glenn T. Seaborg, 39-year-old University of California scientist, his co-worker Prof. Edwin M. McMillan, 44, and Sir John D. Cockroft, 54, head of Britain's Harwell atomic energy project. Seaborg and McMillan shared the chemistry prize for their discovery of plutonium. Cockroft shared the physics award with Dr. Ernest T. S. Walton of Trinity College, Dublin, for their work on atomic nuclei.

Postoperative Patient Care

Modern methods of post operative care have done much to eliminate the discomforts and complications which, in the past, so often followed surgery.

Not so long ago an operation meant a rather lengthy period in bed, with very little movement permitted. As a result of this complete physical quiet, circulation was slowed and patients frequently developed blood clots in the vessels of the legs. In some cases, bits of these clots broke away to travel through the blood stream until they lodged in some vital organ, such as the lung, brain, or heart.

Another complication of surgery was collapse of the lung. Wound infections after surgery occurred in some cases.

Today, with the use of the antibiotic drugs, wound infections have been practically eliminated. Collapse of the lung has been eliminated to a great degree by the more competent administration of anesthetics and the early promotion of activity in the patient. The formation of clots in the blood vessels has also been prevented by early activity.

In present - day surgery patients are not permitted to remain in bed too long—a day or two at the most in the majority of cases—then they are allowed to sit up on the side of the bed, and to walk as soon as possible thereafter.

Another frequent, disturbing complication of surgery has been the failure on the part of the patient to regain normal intestinal power, as well as power to carry on the function of urination following surgery.

Today, a simple method of reducing the frequency of this complication has been devised. A new drug, which is a form of neostigmene, has been used. The patient is given an injection of this drug, followed by a low enema. A dose of this medicine is administered one hour later and then every three hours for a total of six to ten doses. As a rule, this drug is very effective in producing normal action of the intestines following surgery.

Since difficulty in emptying the bowel and bladder is responsible for so much discomfort following operations, this new method of treatment will be exceedingly welcome.

Questions And Answers

J. S.: Can you tell me something about Hodgkin's disease?

Answer: Hodgkin's disease is a condition in which the lymph glands of the body enlarge, and in which there is marked anemia.

In most cases, the first symptom of the disease is enlargement of the glands in the neck. Months or even years may pass before the other glands, such as those in the armpits and groin, become enlarged. Usually, the spleen enlarges.

The disease is incurable.

A Foreign Policy for Americans

ing more troops to Europe without the consent of Congress, said emphatically that he did not need the permission of Congress to take such action.

On January 11, at a press interview, according to the Washington Post:

"Mr. Truman, whose right to send troops to Europe recently was challenged by Senator Taft, said he had the power to send them any place in the world. This, he said, had been repeatedly recognized by Congress and the Supreme Court.

"A reporter asked Mr. Truman in effect what would happen if Congress tried to tie his hands by putting restrictions in the appropriation bills for the forces to be sent to Europe.

Claimed Clear Authority

"That, said the President, was up to Congress. If they wanted to go to the country about it, he said, he would go with them—and he recalled that he licked them once."

At the President's conference a week later, on January 18, according to the press:

"He repeated that his constitutional authority to send American force to Europe to take up their positions in an integrated European army was clear and did not depend upon the consent of Congress. What he would be glad to have, he said in substance, was a Senate expression that affirmed his constitutional authority."

Furthermore, a document was submitted to Congress, entitled Powers of the President to Send the Armed Forces Outside the United States, dated February 28, 1951, which was printed, though not endorsed, by the Joint Committees on Foreign Relations and Armed Services of the Senate. This document contains the most unbridled claims for the authority of the President that I have ever seen written in cold print.

"MY POLICY . . ." Returning to Washington from a midwest campaign tour, Republican presidential candidate Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio, answers a barrage of newsmen's questions on his new book, "A Foreign Policy for Americans." Taft says his 1952 foreign policy calls for a "reasonable alliance" with Britain and U.S. protection of such critical spots as the Suez Canal and Africa.

In effect, the document asserts that whenever in his opinion American foreign policy requires he may send troops to any point whatsoever in the world, no matter what the war in which the action may involve us. The document also claims that in sending armed forces to carry out a treaty the President does not require any statutory authority what ever, and it does not recognize the difference between a self-executing treaty and one which requires, even by its own terms, congressional authority.

Sweeping Claims

It ends with the most sweeping claims for power:

"As this discussion of the respective powers of the President and the Congress in this field has made clear, constitutional doctrine has been largely molded by practical necessities. Use of the Congressional power to declare war, for example, has fallen into abeyance because wars are no longer declared in advance. The Constitutional power of the commander in chief has been exercised more often, because the need for armed international action has grown more acute. The long delays occasioned by the slowness of communications in the 18th century have given place to breathtaking rapidity in the tempo of history. Repelling aggression in Korea or Europe cannot wait upon congressional debate. However, while the need for speed and the growth in the size and complexity of the armed forces have enlarged the area in which the powers of the commander in chief are to be wielded, the magnitude of present-day military operations and international policies requires a degree of Congressional support that was unnecessary in the days of the 19th century."

That seems a very gracious concession to Congress. Congress no longer has any power to act. It is simply given the right to support the President after the President has acted.

He Has Wide Powers

Of course, the President has wide powers in foreign policy, but the framers of the Constitution provided expressly that only Congress could do certain things. Those powers are expressed in Section 8 of Article I. Of course, Congress is given the power, and the exclusive power—

"To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water.

"To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years."

That reflects a certain and definite suspicion of a possible desire on the part of some President to set up a great permanent military force. Further powers of Congress as stated in Section 8:

"To provide and maintain a navy.

"To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces."

There are other powers, such as calling forth the militia and disciplining the militia.

Power To Make Treaties

The Constitution also provides that the President shall have the power to make treaties, but only by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur. The President's relationship to the armed forces is stated only in Section 2 of Article II of the Constitution:

"The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States . . ."

There is one very definite limit—and I think it is admitted by every responsible authority who has discussed the problem—on the President's power to send troops abroad if the sending of such troops amounts to the making of war.

Some may feel that if the President can do certain things there is no sense in arguing that he has no right to do them. But the division and limitation of powers is the very basis of our constitutional system, and decisions regarding the proper limits of such powers affect the validity of many other actions, such as the right of Congress to pass legislation to restrain the President's authority to send troops abroad in such a way as to involve the country in war. True, the President perhaps cannot be prevented from usurping power, but we can only presume the President will follow constitutional laws passed by the people's representatives.

Protecting Lives

Most of the cases which have been cited as authority for the President sending troops abroad are cases where the use of our troops was limited to the protection of American citizens or of American property.

The Boxer Rebellion is frequently cited; but in that case troops were sent into China because the legations in Peking were besieged and the legitimate Chinese Government was unable to defend them against the rebellious Boxers. So the various nations sent their troops there, in order to rescue those who were in the legations. That was a clear effort to protect American lives, to protect American diplomatic lives which were threatened contrary to the law of nations; and certainly it was not an act which would necessarily involve us in war.

TOMORROW: Continuing his discussion of the place of the President and Congress in foreign policy, Senator Taft tells why he believes the President exceeded his power when he sent troops abroad to join the European army under General Eisenhower.

Marion Red Cross Sends Yule Packages

Thirty Christmas packages for servicemen, were sent from the Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross last week for the "Christmas on the High Seas" program sponsored by the American Red Cross.

These packages, which were wrapped with festive paper, ribbon and greetings, were contributed by the women's clubs in the city. Marion's quota for this project was 25 packages and the deadline, Nov. 20.

Destination of the packages is a naval base on the eastern coast. There, the packages will be put on board ship until distribution among the servicemen on Christmas Day. Object of the project is to provide a Christmas gift for each serviceman sailing the seas on Christmas Day.

Each box contained at least six articles such as games, gum, hard candy, handkerchiefs, cards, pipes, puzzles and pocket-size books.

In charge of the local project was Mrs. E. G. Siefert. Working with her were Mrs. Clare Smith, Miss Irene Huhn, Mrs. F. J. Hurst and Miss Emma O'Brien.

American engineers recently completed a 350-mile railroad in the Middle East, linking the Persain Gulf oil port of Dammam to Riyadh.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"We are all ready for the trip at least," Bess Conway told me, laughing. "Trust two gals to be ready for a shopping trip such as your father has planned well ahead of time. We only have to put on our hats, coats and gloves, and snatch up our handbags."

"I'm a bit excited myself," I told them. "I never have been on a shopping trip as exciting as this promises to be. But I am not ready—quite. I shall have to wait until my husband gets out of his room. My things are down there, but he is getting ready for his trip to New Haven, and he shooed me out most effectually a few minutes ago"

"Dicky as a shooer is something to remember," Lillian put in, and I turned to her with a gleam of malice in my eye.

"He was especially solicitous about you," I told her. "He wanted to make sure we didn't forget to invite you to join us on the shopping trip."

The girls, unconscious of Lillian's attitude toward shopping trips, played up beautifully to my suggestion.

"Oh, but of course you are going with us, Mrs. Underwood," Bess said. "We couldn't think of going without you."

"Indeed no," Mildred chimed in. "You simply must go. We won't stir a step without you."

I was almost choking with laughter at the sight of Lillian's face. She had been all set to send back a crushing reply to Dicky's suggestion, but the girls' courteous insistence made it impossible for her to do anything save scramble for a suitable and courteous excuse.

"You are most kind," she said, "but it simply will be impossible for me to accept your invitation. I would love to go with you, but I have some work on hand that must be gotten out. I am going to ask Dicky for the loan of his studio this morning. It is wonderful that he will be away all day."

"Yes, I can imagine your deep delight," Dicky told her, as he came through the door. "You're welcome to the studio, of course, but I warn you that my aura will be around, sneering at you for the way you treat me. What will you give me not to snitch on your reason for not going with the dames on their shopping trip?"

"Blackmailer!" she told him. "If you dare open your mouth, I'll cram the words down your throat."

"You don't dast!" he taunted her, "because they'd know at once that you was brung up in a back alley. I'm asking you again, what will you pay me to keep my trap shut?"

"Nought to keep you out of the hoosegow for the latest crime you've committed," she retorted, and he pretended to consider her offer.

"That will be satisfactory," he told her gravely, and she rose and dropped him a curtsey.

"Gramercy for the lima beans," she said, while the girls giggled. Then as she sat down again, Dicky turned to me.

"I might as well be pushing off," he said. "I have an errand I want to do before I take the train. Come along to the door, and be properly bussed."

With his hand on my elbow, he propelled me to the door which was out of sight of the occupants of the living room. There he "bussed" me most satisfactorily, and whispered a parting admonition to me.

"Have Lillian do her work—if any, down here," he said. "Tell her and Harry not to leave the suite while we're gone."

INSPECTION PLANNED

Plans were discussed and a drill practice held for inspection on Nov. 27 at a meeting of Sosnowski Rebekah Lodge, Tuesday night. Mrs. Hannah Walter presided. An invitation was accepted to attend a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Rebekah Degree to be held Dec. 1, at Findlay, by the IOOF and Rebekah Promoters of northeastern Ohio. Mrs. Ethel Rissler will serve as left supporter of the noble grand on the degree staff. Mrs. Forest Davis of Green Camp, representative from District No. 29, will be the inspecting officer.

To Attend Hi-Y Meeting

Seven Marion high school students will attend the annual Tri-Hi-Y conference for the northwest district Saturday at 9 a.m. at Fostoria. The day-long event will be held at the Fostoria YMCA and will be attended by Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Club members from other high schools in northwestern Ohio. Some 350 boys and girls are expected to attend.

Those to represent Marion are Henry Deal, Jack Boxwell, Nick Alex, Jim Popoff, Marvin McFann, Beverly Hurley and Rozelle Kaelber. Marvin Ludwig, boys' work secretary at the local Y, will accompany the group.

Topic for the meeting will be "Faith for the Future." The feature speaker will be Dr. Terry Wickham, president of Heidelberg College at Tiffin.

Policy of Moderation

SENATOR TAFT'S views on foreign policy as he reveals them in "A Foreign Policy for Americans" are going to leave his critics high and dry.

In the first newspaper release of the condensed text of his book, Senator Taft makes it clear there is only one difference between him and the so-called internationalists.

They want to give away America's wealth and commit its military power willy-nilly according to their version of what is needed in foreign countries.

Senator Taft wants to bestow American resources according to American means and interests, not according to foreign wants or demands. And he wants to be certain that the liberty of Americans is always put ahead of the numerous goals conjured up these days in attempts to justify what the government happens to want to do for one reason or another.

Senator Taft favors a policy of moderation and restraint in foreign relations. What his critics like to call his "isolationism" is in fact no more than a sense of caution. When this becomes more generally known, the myth which his opponents have nursed along—that he wants to turn back the clock—will disappear.

That was his purpose in writing "A Foreign Policy for Americans."

Self-Curing Affliction

THE National Collegiate Athletic Association now is going to have another whirl at making rules to ease pressure on football, but for the first time since the pressure was turned on it is beginning to ease itself.

Collegiate football is closer to sanity than it has been since it went haywire. The reason lies in the nature of human beings, not in rules such as those which have been so widely disobeyed by the N.C.A.A.

When couches refuse to take abuse from hysterical alumni and when college faculties refuse to play dead for football fanatics, hope is in sight. When college treasuries, moreover, begin to realize that the profit is not worth the grief that goes with commercializing an amateur sport, the end of over-emphasized college football is in sight.

It will be reached when football fans discover in greater numbers than they have discovered so far that the professionals play for pay more skillfully than the semi-professionals because they don't have to pretend to be doing anything else.

For Officials Only

THE newest wrinkle in Washington secrecy is a sudden increase in documents tagged "For Official Use Only." These are something like "confidential memos" in private organizations.

It is evident from the nature of comments made that many persons do not understand why there is so much excitement over government secrecy. Thus, the recent discussion of security regulations which newspapers said were in danger of being abused by federal agencies left the impression in many quarters that newsmen were seeking the right to print information which might jeopardize national safety.

There is a powerful impulse among nearly all human beings to try to build up an air of secrecy about matters which should not be kept secret. When this happens in government, it is dangerous. Elsewhere, it may be stupid, or perhaps annoying, but it is rarely dangerous.

The people of the United States have a right to find out what is being done in the name of their sovereignty with their money. That is popular government. This right to find out is challenged whenever information is suppressed. When the information is suppressed needlessly, there has been flagrant infringement on the right of a free press. Nine times out of ten, the suppression has nothing to do with security but a great deal to do with bureaucratic fathomlessness, or worse. Hence the excitement.

The newest idea of trying to confine information to certain high officials is justifiable only if national security is involved. If all that is involved is personal security or the impulse to make secrets out of public information, secrecy is without justification.

Color Study

THE idea is firmly fixed in many minds that the United States is going to have to bail out the Iranians who chased the British out of Abadan because now there is no one who knows how to run the world's largest oil refinery there any more. Even if there were, the oil could not be sold because Britain owned the tankers which hauled it away.

The bailing out in this case would consist of enough credit to keep the government of Iran from being overthrown by a dissatisfied public looking for a scapegoat. The United States is being warned that the Iranian Communists might take over. In the meantime, Great Britain is getting ready to ask for a substantial loan to keep itself from turning pink again.

It is a puzzling situation. All over the world governments are going to change color unless the United States bleeds itself white to keep them true blue.

Red Chinese Now Outcasts

By David Lawrence

No Place Seen for Them in Family of Nations

WASHINGTON

HOW the British government or the government of India or any other government in the world can hereafter maintain diplomatic relations with the Communist regime in China after the disclosures of barbarism just made will be difficult to understand.

The "left wing" school of thought, which in the United States and elsewhere has been insisting that military supremacy alone in a given area is all that is needed to merit diplomatic recognition, will have to abandon that narrow concept now. For the failure of any government to discharge international obligations—and that includes humane treatment of prisoners—is an even more important requirement for recognition than possession of any given area.

LAWRENCE

Thus for nearly 17 years the Communists held military supremacy over Russia, but the United States withheld recognition until an agreement was negotiated to require Russian adherence to certain international obligations.

What the Chinese Communists have done in murdering 5,790 United Nations prisoners and tens of thousands of Korean civilians would seek to deserve a denunciation so severe that no new government in China would ever be admitted to the U. N. or to the family of nations until those Chinese responsible for the Korean crimes are punished.

The Chinese leader Mao should be tried as a war criminal some day before the U. N. considers admitting any new government of China. If some anti-Communist regime does some day win military supremacy in China, the American government and other governments, before extending recognition, might well demand as a first condition the execution of the Communist leaders who permitted the Korean atrocities to happen.

IT WILL BE interesting to see what the U. N. does about the massacre of the prisoners of war who lost their lives fighting for the U. N. Certainly a resolution condemning the action and declaring that the present Chinese leaders will be held personally accountable for what has happened would serve notice throughout Asia that the western world doesn't intend to let such brutal deeds go unpunished.

Demands are arising already that the atom bomb be used on the Communists. This, however, is something wholly unrelated to the decision heretofore to withhold the use of the bomb. The military authorities have had no restraint placed upon them except one—that military effectiveness shall dictate the use of atom weapons. The argument up to now has been that not enough troop concentrations were available to drop the type of bomb which was used in World War II. But the murder of 5,500 Americans, out of the 5,790 U.N. prisoners reported killed by both Chinese and North Korean commanders, will make the next decision on atom bombs easier for the U. N. forces to apply.

DISCLOSURE by the 8th Army's judge advocate general, Colonel James M. Hanley, of the statistics of the murders is a significant development. It tells the Chinese rulers that the U. N. negotiators have had no illusions about that unsettled point in the armistice talks which concerns a possible exchange of prisoners. The Communists haven't many U. N. prisoners left to give back, and, now the facts are revealed, a breaking-off of truce negotiations would not be surprising. For there isn't much to negotiate with an enemy guilty of such barbarism that it violates all humane rules. Such an enemy's word on a truce agreement would be valueless.

The horrible part of the whole story is the anguish which the latest reports will cause the parents and relatives of those boys who up to now have been listed as "missing." It had been hoped that the Chinese might have kept alive most of the prisoners. If, of course, the reports announced by Colonel Hanley are incorrect, all the Communists have to do now is to produce the prisoners and disprove the report. But the disclosure of the reports available to the American military authorities was undoubtedly decided upon because the prospect of a large number returning was considered hopeless.

Communist China is not deserving of any place in the family of nations, and the U. N. would be justified in deciding to aid openly all elements in China which have for their objective the overthrow of the Communist rulers.

Bare Feet on The Stairs

By TRUMAN TWILL

A KEYHOLE columnist was reporting the other day that First Lady Truman has been putting the pressure on First Man Truman to get back to Independence, Mo., where the Trumans can live like human beings. The thing that has been getting her down is the presence of Secret Service men in the living quarters of the White House. She has to dress up in the privacy of what is supposed to be her own home but actually has less privacy in it than a sleeping car.

That would be enough to take the heart out of anybody, but especially out of people not used to it. Certainly one of the hardships of high position is the presence at all times of flunkeys and the necessity of not embarrassing them.

As far as most human beings are concerned, in contrast with what they think they must do under certain circumstances, there is no such a thing as false modesty. In the Truman family before it took up residence in the White House, as in all ordinary American families, the sight of a pair of bare feet on the stairs was not a cause for alarm.

Pajamas, kimonos, night gowns and even night shirts were commonly seen outside of bedrooms, perhaps even in the living room and kitchen on occasions. The subject need not be conjectured about at length, other than to say that members of ordinary families do what comes naturally in the matter of dishabille in the privacy of their homes and the Trumans are an ordinary family.

When it is considered what Americans are capable of doing on bathing beaches, formal parties, television screens and night clubs, they have plenty of leeway in the intimacy of the family—not as much as outside, but plenty for comfort. It is small wonder that Bess Truman, who never cared much for living in the White House anyway, should be getting fed up with Secret Service men on guard 24 hours a day in the living quarters.

Out in R.F.D., which is as far from that sort of thing as anyone could want to be, there is no one watching at all, not even any neighbors close enough to take note of what is going on. The shades never have to be pulled. If the outside temperature is suitable, an inhabitant can go walking in the yard and garden in his birthday suit without causing excitement — without even causing any more embarrassment than might come from a chance meeting with one of the other inhabitants in the same approximate condition.

There are advantages in being obscure and unnoticed that no amount of power and money can buy—and henceforth a dash from here to there in the altogether will be appraised for what it is worth in the seasoned judgment of Bess Truman, who knows what it's like to have to dress up before she can say "Good morning."

Congress Quiz

Q—How does a party pick the chairman of its national committee?

A—The head of the party—for the Democrats that's President Truman—recommends a candidate, who then is "chosen" by vote of the party's national committee. That's the way Frank E. McKinney became Democratic chairman Oct. 31, succeeding William M. Boyle Jr. The Republicans follow the same procedure.

The Greatness That Was Rome

By George E. Sokolsky

THE Romans had a high civil official called a censor whose business it was to tell the truth. Marcus Cato, a plain and rugged man, aspired to the post, but the aristocrats and the rich and those who preferred a smooth life were opposed to his candidacy.

They brought forth a number of very fine candidates, soft spoken and gentle, who made promises to the people to give them an indulgent and easy government.

Cato would have no competition with them. He delivered tough speeches and advised the people to choose not the gentlest but the roughest of physicians. He painted no glowing picture of himself nor lied about his intentions. Of this, Plutarch says:

"... He (Cato added, too, that he saw all the rest endeavouring after the office with ill intent, because they were afraid of those who would exercise it justly, as they ought. And so truly great and so worthy of great men to be its leaders was, it would seem, the Roman people, that they did not fear the severity and grim countenance of Cato, but rejecting those smooth promisers who were ready to do all things to ingratiate themselves, they took him ..."

IT IS INTERESTING to note that all the same arguments against candidates were used in ancient times that are used against them today. For instance they say that Senator Taft lacks beauty of appearance. That he does. He would never win a beauty contest at Atlantic City, nor does he have the charm of manner or the gracefulness of personality of a Franklin D. Roosevelt or a General Eisenhower. He is a homespun sort of personality who talks like a vigorous Yankee—and thinks with all the intellectual toughness of one.

He makes no attempt to paint roseate pictures of the world, his country, or even of himself. Like ancient Marcus Cato, he gathers the facts and presents them and if they are unpalatable, it might make him unpopular for saying what is undesirable. Yet, if that is the way it needs to be said, he says it so, and it might have saved us our 100,000 casualties in Korea had we listened.

Perhaps had Bob Taft tailored himself for popularity, he might have been President by now and the country would have been saved many an ordeal, but then he would not have been Bob Taft, but a figurine that some trifler painted to fit a mood. And as the mood seemed to change, additional paints and lacquers would be added until it left an odor of an icebox dish cooked over two or three times to which perhaps a curry or a tomato paste had been added to disguise its staleness. Those who fear facts and arithmetic but who specialize in the broad and general so often dislike Taft.

TOO MANY OF OUR politicians substitute glamour for integrity, mannerisms for graciousness, the quip and gag for knowledge and wisdom, and thus we get foul government in which corruption vies with chicanery. Think of what a low estate we have sunk to if any public person can make such a speech as Captain Victor Hunt Harding, executive director of the Democratic national congressional committee, permitted himself to say to a meeting:

"A great many government workers may feel that they have been blanketed in under civil service. But, if the Republicans get control in the future, they'll find the blanket yanked out, and they'll shiver."

Then he continued:

(It is) "unfortunate that many who came here as a result of the Democratic party have so completely forgotten this and now feel they secured their positions because of their own ability and intelligence."

There it is, the degeneracy of a nation. Not ability and intelligence matter, but loyalty to a party, obedience to the dictates of those who prefer to give something for nothing rather than to get a dollar's worth for a dollar paid, which means service and responsibility.

It was stimulating to re-read Plutarch on Cato because it is all so modern, so like all the things that happen about us. And it is particularly pertinent to Bob Taft, a factual, intellectual economist who speaks his mind with utmost candor. His opponents say that he has all the virtues that Plutarch attributed to Marcus Cato, but they say that he can not be elected because he lacks what they call "sex appeal." If that is the test of civic virtue, why not elect Franchot Tone, the actor who spit at a woman? Apparently he does possess sex appeal.

The first grist mill erected in Prospect was built by a company composed of Jacob Spade, Christian Gast, John Gast and others, and was located on the east bank of the river in the northern part of town. It was built in 1852 and did a general milling and storage business. On July 3, 1858, sparks from the engine set fire to the building, completely destroying the mill, the Lutheran Church, a dwelling house and doctor's office. The house and office belonged to Dr. Cook and were occupied by Richard Patten and Dr. Thatcher.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Oh, Say Can You See!"

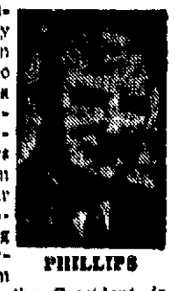
President Truman's winter beach wardrobe is in the ring. The questions immediately raised by pictures from Key West are: (1) How does Ike Eisenhower shape up in tropical attire? (2) How far will Bob Taft go in the matter of vacation costumes? (3) Will the campaign of 1952 be for the Presidency or for the Mister America Trophy?

No matter what papers and magazines are for his opponents, Mr. Truman would seem to have Esquire cinched. It is possible that atomic energy may yet be found in a Truman beach shirt. Harry's ability to replace a hair shirt with a beach costume, with the minimum movements, is sensational. With global leaders huddled in grave conclaves in Paris, with the Korean war raging anew, with the economic situation worsening hourly and with almost everybody knee deep in the problem of making both ends meet, the President is shown jauntily enjoying a five-week vacation in Florida in the attire, pose and mood of a free guest at an Elk's clambake. Not even in Las Vegas, Hollywood or Nice have we seen people who seemed less weighed down by global concerns.



PHILLIPS

You can't tell us that a smart man in high office dresses and behaves like that without careful thought. Harry is a keen judge of public reactions. He may have decided that the public will go for a man who conveys a "Why worry?" mood and projects the message, "Bad as the world picture is, I don't have to dress for it, do I?"

* * *

Pictures of Winston Churchill strolling a Riviera beach in pink and green shorts, or the top men of France grinning on a surfboard somewhere would seem quite out of place against the background of an impending world war, the troubles in the Near East and the horrors of a possible atomic conflict. Nobody can imagine Joe Stalin demonstrating what the well-dressed winter tourist will wear. But maybe that's just the trouble. Pictures of the Big Four together in white caps, multi-colored beach shirts and the 1952 winter-resort shoe styles might ease the world tension as nothing else has done.

Nevertheless many Democrats are worried. No President in history has seemed scenically so carefree in a time of crisis. Many candidates have tossed hats into the ring. But Mr. Truman is the first to toss a dazzling tropical wardrobe. We begin to understand Eisenhower's caution. He wants to be sure what costumes he will have to compete against. Stassen and Warren are waiting to determine the part winter fashions in men's tailoring will play in saving the republic. Taft? He beat the winter resort gun and it is reported certain Floridian photography will not be the deciding factor in 1952.

Average American Said To Be Saving More

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK

THE average American—which these days could be freely translated as the guy in the middle—is said to be saving more. And this, in spite of inflated cost of living, inflated taxes, and all th eother inflated drains on his pocketbook.

Many find it hard to believe, this assurance of the Department of Commerce that Americans are socking away about one-tenth of disposable income (that is, what's left of the total personal income of all Americans, after taxation).

But some wonder if it couldn't be that the average American is saving, not in spite of inflation, but because of inflation. This would be partly out of resentment at the high prices he refuses to pay, but even more because inflation has raised the sights on the average American's goal of savings and need for savings.

Just as a fixed income doesn't provide the standard of living it did a few years ago, neither does the fixed nest-egg assure the retirement once the prudent man had planned. He has the gnawing knowledge that if possible he must save more now if he is to assure himself of the old-age standards he has been spending a life-time to achieve. Nor can he be sure that even this new and greater nest-egg won't be shrivelled by further inflation.

MR. AVERAGE AMERICAN is defined by the Commerce Clearing House, a business and tax law analyzing agency in Chicago, as being: a 29-year-old married man with two children and earning $4,300 a year. If he works till he is 65 he will have paid out in all forms of taxes $37,163, according to the agency. That means he will have worked eight and a half years solely for federal, state and local governments. How is he going to save?

Of course, Mr. Average American doesn't exist. No American fits the average—which is struck by figuring it out mathematically. Actually, most people are not average, but in the middle—squeezed by incomes that seem never to rise as fast as prices and the needs of growing families and the treadmill of seeking security against old age and disability.

The government talks about the average American, but mostly it means Mr. Total American. The personal income of Mr. Total American is an annual $253.3 billion just now. After paying his taxes he has disposable income of $225.7 billion, figured at the present purchasing power of the dolalr. Figured in 1950 prices, this income is only $210.9 billion.

THE DEPARTMENT of Commerce says that currently Mr. Total American is spending $204 billion a year on personal consumption items, both goods and services. This leaves him a net saving of $21.7 billion, or 9.6 per cent of his disposable income. This is the highest rate of saving known since World War II days, when Mr. Total American saved because there wasn't anything to buy.

Almost one sixth of this total personal income comes from government payments—$35.2 billion, the Institute of Life Insurance reports today. This includes federal, state and local civilian payrolls, armed forces payrolls together with family allowances and veteran benefits, the various forms of social benefits, public assistance and direct relief, as well as payments by government-run businesses. Steadily the government, through its tax levying with one hand and its payments with the other becomes more and more a main factor of the economy.

MR. TOTAL AMERICAN has commited himself to $34 billion a year for repayment of his personal debt. This is $2.8 billion a month, or 15 per cent of total disposable income. It's what must be paid in one year on mortgages, loans, charge accounts, auto time payments and other on-the-cuff items. The total of this debt at present is put at $66.9 billion.

Yet, in spite of this debt, the mounting tax toll, the increasing cost of living, Mr. Total American is putting more away in the form of bonds, insurance and thrift accounts than any time since the war, the Securities and Exchange Commission reports.

DOLL A CASUALTY. Although she escaped injury in a Pittsburgh suburb gas blast, Kathleen Kunze, 2, is more concerned over the fate of her doll's head. It was quite obviously blown of fin an explosion that damaged the home of Sylvester G. Vollmer, where Kathleen had been taken by a baby sitter. Four persons were hurt.

34th Annual Rally Held At Wyandot Church

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—Highlight of the program of the 34th Wyandot County Inter-denominational Missionary rally held in the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church of near Upper Sandusky Nov. 8 was a talk given by Miss Gertrude Mittermier of Upper Sandusky. Her subject was "Be Willing."

Miss Mittermier stressed the fact it takes time, study and prayer to live a consecrated life and it requires a willingness to share, to sacrifice and to act when called, if we are to share in Christ's promise.

The speaker for the afternoon session was Mrs. Wilna Wintringham from Ada. In a "chalk talk," she illustrated "In Quietness There Is Strength"; "Witnessing for Christ through the Church and Everyday Living."

During the business session it was decided to divide among various world service projects the offering. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Lee Keltner, Nevada Methodist Church; vice president, Mrs. Roy McClain, Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church; secretary, Mrs. Hugh Davis, Sycamore Reformed Church, and treasurer, Mrs. Harold Conrad, Salem Evangelical Church.

MEMBERS OF THE Nine to Twelve Dance Club held their second dance of the season Wednesday evening at the Marion Country Club. Heading the host and hostess committee were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Middleton. Guests were Mrs. C. M. Dobbs of Marietta, Ga., Mrs. D. S. Sims of Dayton and Mr. and Mrs William Reichenstein. The dance program was played by Nels Blocker and his orchestra.

Announcement was made of the Christmas Dance to be held Dec. 5, at the Country Club. Cocktails will be at 6:30 o'clock followed by dinner at 7:30 o'clock.

Two films, "Safety" and "History of Silverware" were presented by the program chairman, Mrs. George Turner, at a meeting of the Research Club, Monday afternoon. Hostess was Mrs. E. L. Bush of Summit St. Mrs. C. F. Smith gave the thought for the day and presented a group of poems in keeping with Thanksgiving. For roll call the topic was "Patriotic Women—Why?" A moment of silent prayer was in remembrance of Mrs. C. J. Bover, a member of the club who died recently. Plans were made to take gifts for the veterans' hospitals to the next meeting. Group singing completed the program hour.

HOMEMAKERS ELECT

Election of officers was held by the Young Homemakers Club recently at the home of Mrs. Barbara Creasap of 350 Mary St. Officers are: Mrs. Creasap, president; Mrs. Mary K. Hollinger, vice president; and Mrs. Jo Ann Shirk, secretary treasurer. A gift of canned goods was presented to the Clarence Bogan-wright family, who lost their home by fire recently. Guests were Mike, Pamela, and Steve Rhoades, David and Mary Frances McKinney, Mary Ann Caprino, Mary Jo and Anna Marie Bruno, Peggy and Danny Shirk, Kathy and Ray Moloney, and Susan Creasop, Mrs. Shirk helped Mrs. Creasap serve refreshments.

BUCYRUS HOSPITAL BIRTHS

BUCYRUS — City Hospital births: a daughter, born Tuesday, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Wagner of near Bucyrus; a son, born Wednesday, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richards of near Bucyrus.

Women's Board Of City Hospital Holds Luncheon

A business session and afternoon of sewing followed a luncheon when the Woman's Board of the Marion City Hospital met Wednesday at the Marion Country Club. Hostesses were Mrs. Delmar Hamilton, Mrs. Ray R. King and Mrs. T. E. Sonnanstine. Mrs. John Bartram, vice president, presided.

The sum of $262.30 was reported netted in a ticket sale sponsored by the board for the State Western Horse Show held here early this fall. Mrs. Chester C. Roberts, clinic chairman, reported 23 babies registered at the well baby clinic during the month of October. Mrs. J. A. McNamara, sewing chairman, reported 84 towels ready for the City Hospital.

Plans were furthered for the annual holiday dance to be sponsored by the board Dec. 28 at the Hy-Way Rollarena. Mrs. Virgil Dye, chairman and Mrs. Merle Hamilton, co-chairman announced that tickets will be distributed at the next board meeting.

This year the board is adding special tickets to be sold to high school students only, at a special price. As in former years there will be tickets available for couples and also singles, the board announces.

The next meeting will be Nov. 28 at the home of Mrs. Wilbur H. Symes of Uhler Rd., with Mrs C. M. Howser and Mrs. Richard Bessom as associate hostesses.

Milk Firm Honors Heiser For Service

Roy Heiser of 225 East Farming St., retail route salesman for Borden's Dairy and Ice Cream Co., was guest of honor at a dinner Wednesday night at Hotel Harding in recognition of 25 years of service with the company. He is the first employe of the local firm to complete that many years.

Some 110 employes and their wives of the Borden Company in Marion and Mansfield were present when Mr. Heiser was presented a 25-year service pin and an album of pictures depicting various phases of his work. His wife was presented an orchid corsage. Arthur Stiles, manager of the Mansfield plant and former manager of the Marion plant, made the presentations.

Merle Burch, manager of the local plant, gave the welcoming address. Miss Virginia Grover of 741 East Church St., entertained with piano selections.

Guest speaker was George Kelnzel, director of public relations of the Borden Co., in Columbus. He chose for his topic, "Elsie, the Cow."

Mr. Heiser will continue his job as retail route salesman in the northwest section of Marion.

SERVICE AT IBERIA

A community Thanksgiving service at Iberia Thursday morning will be held at the Federated Church there. Rev. Paul H. Wood of Portland, Ore., will preach. Time of the service will be 10 o'clock, Dr. Frank Boyd, host pastor, announced.

The California condor, which has the widest wing span of any North American bird, can fly as high as 15,000 feet.

Board Named In Rail Dispute

Heads Off Danger Of Walkout

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—(AP)—A three-man board has been named by President Truman to investigate a dispute in which 17 big railway unions are asking for union shop clauses in their contracts.

Appointment of the board, announced yesterday at Key West, Fla., automatically heads off the danger of any strike over the issue for 60 days.

The 17 unions involved are the non-operating brotherhoods They sought to bargain for the union shop on a nationwide basis this year, but the railroads refused, saying it was something to be negotiated by each line separately.

Mr. Truman said the continuing dispute constituted a threat to essential transportation.

Members of the emergency board are David L. Cole, Paterson, N. J., labor attorney, chairman; George E. M. Osborn, Stanford University law professor, and Aaron Horvitz, New York labor specialist.

Car Overturns, Two Injured

James McGee, 65, and his grandson, James O'Neill, 14, both of Akron, were injured yesterday when the car in which they were riding turned over three times in a ditch on Route 103, two miles west of Sycamore.

They were traveling west toward Mt. Blanchard to go hunting when Mr. McGee lost control of the car at 8:10 a.m. It went off the road on the right and then swerved back and went into the ditch on the lefthand side.

They were taken to Wyandot Memorial Hospital by the Moore ambulance of Upper Sandusky. Mr. McGee was in a semi-conscious condition this morning, the hospital reported. He suffered cuts and bruises, as well as shock, in the accident. His grandson's right ankle was broken.

The car was demolished.

Turk Farmers Study Methods In Union County

Special to The Star

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16—Biblical methods of farming in Turkey are replaced by new ideas, some of which came from Union and Mercer Counties, the Agricultural Extension Service at Ohio State University, reported today.

Twenty-eight young Turkish agriculturalists who studied Agricultural Extension Services in the United States are bringing new methods to bear on Turkish farm production, the Economic Cooperation Administration reported today.

Two of the 28 Turks are Kemal Gokcora, director of education for the Turkish ministry of agriculture, and Akif Cakman, assistant to the general director, ministry of agriculture.

In the spring of 1950, Cakman lived, worked and learned on the A. A. Fishbaugh farm near Celina. He was especially interested in seed cleaning, packaging and merchandising. Gokcora stayed on the Ralph Fox farm near Marysville.

Their study in the United States was sponsored under the technical assistance program of ECA. The ECA reported, "In addition to their regular duties they have addressed groups not only on American agriculture but on life in the United States and their experiences while there. Many of them too have been pressed into service as teachers, to meet an apparently ever-growing demand on the part of their colleagues to learn English."

Phone Rate Case in Court Third Time

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Ohio Bell Telephone rate case went to the state Supreme Court for the third time yesterday.

Six cities—Columbus, Cleveland, Akron, Toledo, Dayton and Canton—have appealed an Oct. 4 decision of the State Utilities Commission letting stand the company's present rates.

The cities charge the rates are "unreasonable, unlawful and excessive."

Marion Joins Observance

YMCA In U.S. Marks 100th Anniversary

The Marion YMCA today joined associations throughout North America in observing the 100th anniversary of the Y in this continent.

Although no special program is being planned here other associations in the United States and Canada have set up ceremonies in commemoration of the founding. Groups throughout the country have designated this as National YMCA Week.

The movement was started in London, in June, 1844, where a group of store clerks led by George Williams was formed. At their fifth meeting on July 4 of that year, the present name was adopted after being proposed by Christopher Smith. London visitors upon their return to their homelands organized similar groups until the movement has spread to 79 countries.

Began in Boston

The first association was formed in the United States at Boston Nov. 16, 1851 with Montreal, Canada following suit in the same year.

The Marion YMCA was organized in 1891 and has been in its present location since 1893 when the building on S. State St. was remodeled.

Each association has "local autonomy"—that is, it controls itself. The local associations are united into national councils and a World Alliance. Through these organizations, they carry YMCA work throughout the world. National offices of the Y are in New York City and world headquarters are set up at Geneva, Switzerland.

During its history in Marion, the local organization has pioneered in promoting basketball, volleyball and other sports, physical education, in military recreational services, war prisoners aid, religious work and water safety and swimming programs.

Officers of the local group are: A. W. Kette, president; W. Hoover Brown, Henry Mickley and Charles Harmon, vice presidents; Harry Krigbaum, recording secretary; W. Leonard Young, financial secretary; and Homer Waddell, treasurer.

Arthur L. Haas is general secretary of the Marion Y. He is assisted by Vern Miller as physical secretary and Marvin Ludwig as boys' work secretary.

WYANDOT BIRTH

UPPER SANDUSKY—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Emerine of Upper Sandusky are the parents of a son born Monday in Wyandot Memorial Hospital.

LANTERN JUDGED BEST

DETROIT, Nov. 15—(AP)—The Lantern of Ohio State University yesterday was named best in editorial writing among college and university student publications by Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, at its annual convention.

In the days of ancient Rome, a prison was used only as the place for holding, not for punishing criminals.
